REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSIONS.

Under the Standing Rule, the Committee on Missions made the following report, which was concurred in, and its recommendations adopted:

Your committee have carefully considered the Report of your Board of Missions, together with other papers referred to us for our consideration.

We are glad to note the proficiency of your Board in its work of the last year, for although on account of the stringency of the times contributions to this cause have not been as liberal as was hoped, yet, taking the whole work into account, evident and encouraging progress has been made. It appears, however, from the final statement of the Board's Treasurer, that only six hundred and thirty-eight congregations, forty-nine missionary societies, and forty-eight Sunday-schools have contributed through the Board during the year. Also, that only four hundred ministers have forwarded offerings from their respective charges. From these figures we gather the following facts, as shown by comparing them with the statistical report of the General Assembly's Minutes of 1884: 1st. That eleven hundred and three ministers, or nearly three-fourths of the whole number, have done nothing for this great cause. 2d. Seventeen hundred and seventy-nine congregations, or about three-fourths of the whole number, have made no contributions through the Board. 3d. That the average contribution, both for Home and Foreign Missions, was less than six cents per member during last year. These facts, while they do not show all that the entire denomination has done for missions, do most clearly point out the source of our weakness in this behalf. It is the opinion of your committee that the one main and overshadowing reason for the leanness of your missionary treasury is found in the failure of your ministers to present this matter to their people, and then give them the information and the opportunity necessary to the exercise of intelligent and systematic Christian beneficence.

In view of the great demand upon your Board for aggressive work, especially in the home field, this state of the case demands that more efficient measures be adopted through which the co-operation of all the ministers of your Church shall be secured. Therefore, in accordance with the General Regulations, Sec. 13, which reads: "To the General Assembly belongs the power to originate and carry on such general enterprises as missions, publications, etc., as it may from time to time deem for the best interests of the whole Church. It may designate the plans and agencies by which these enterprises shall be conducted, and the inferior courts shall see that its injunctions are duly observed"—we recommend that the attention of the Presbyteries be called to the importance of requiring their ministers and Church Sessions, under pain of public censure (see Constitution, Sec. 31), to present the claims of missions regularly to their respective charges, thus giving the people the opportunity of contributing to this cause.

Such recommendation, if faithfully regarded by the Presbyteries, would, in the opinion of your committee, result in an onward movement in the missionary work of the Church, such as would largely increase your efficiency in carrying out the Master's commission, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

In this connection your committee further recommend that a copy of this report, together with any comments the Board of Missions may see proper to make, be sent to the Stated Clerk of each Presbytery in your bounds, with the request that the same be read before the Presbytery, and that such action be taken as will secure the desired end.

For the condition of missions under the care of your Board in the home field, we refer to the Board's report herewith returned, from which it will be seen that these are being sustained with hopeful prospect of ultimate success. We are pleased to note that it is the purpose of your Board, if the needed funds are forthcoming, to give special attention and aid to the extension of the Church in the West and South-west, from which are coming so many calls for help.

We concur in the opinion of the Board, "that the congregations of the Presbyteries and Synods in which the respective city missions in the older States are located, should furnish to the Board all the funds needed for the support of such missions, so that all other home missionary contributions may be employed in the extension of the Church in new fields in the West and in the Indian Territory."

In reference to missions in the Indian Territory, we learn through the report of your Board and other sources that on the whole some progress is being made, and that our missionaries among the Cherokees are making efforts to establish Christian schools as auxiliaries to their work. We are also informed that the Woman's Board, during its late meeting at Oxford, Miss., indicated a willingness to aid in the work of sustaining missionaries and schools among the Indians. In view of these facts, we recommend that you authorize your Board, when the condition of the treasury will permit, to give such aid to these schools as in their judgment may be proper, and also that you gratefully acknowledge the purpose of the Woman's Board to assist in this behalf.

Your committee also concur in the purpose of the Board as expressed in their report in reference to our work on the Pacific Coast (see report), and recommend, 1st. That the Board take steps toward the establishing of at least one city mission in California. 2d. That the Board secure an evangelist for work on the Pacific Coast.

Concerning the foreign work we see evident indications of progress, and feel that the Church has cause for gratitude to God for what has already been done in Japan. Your Board is giving every possible encouragement to that work, and will doubtless send other missionaries to that field as soon as it is practicable to do so.

In addition to the foregoing, your committee further recommend:

1. That the paper referring to the practicability of having the Japanese language taught in Cumberland University be referred to the Committee on Education.

2. That all Presbyteries and Synods contemplating the establishment of a mission church in places already fully occupied by other denominations shall first confer with the Board.

3. That you appoint some one whose duty it shall be to make an address on missions some time during the sittings of the next General Assembly.

4. That you appoint the first Sabbath in October as a day whereon all ministers in charge of congregations shall preach on the subject of church erection, and collect funds for the same.

5. That you authorize your Board to appoint an agent whose duty it shall be to solicit offerings for church erection.

6. That the first Sabbath in the quarter for Home Missions, and the first Sabbath in the quarter for Foreign Missions, respectively, be designated as days for concert of prayer for these interests. W. B. FARR, Chairman.

PROOF-READING OF CONFESSION OF FAITH.

The special order was taken up, viz., the Report of the Committee on Reading the Proof of the Confession of Faith, the discussion of which occupied the morning session; and pending said discussion, the General Assembly took recess until 2:30 o'clock P.M.

TUESDAY, May 26, 2:30 o'clock P.M.

The General Assembly resumed the business pending at recess, and, after further discussion, the following paper was adopted:

* The committee subsequently made an elaborate report, but it was not adopted.—T. C. B., S. C.

WHEREAS, The General Assembly, in ordering the publication of the Confession of Faith, failed to give any instructions in regard to the insertion of a Preface; and,

WHEREAS, In the judgment of this General Assembly, a Preface is needed; and,

WHEREAS, The committee appointed at McKeesport, Pa., in 1884, to read the proof of the Confession of Faith, have prepared a Preface and Introductory Statement; therefore,

1. Resolved, That this General Assembly approve and adopt said Preface and Introductory Statement, and order the Board of Publication, in all further editions of the Confession of Faith, to insert said Preface and Introductory Statement; and that a statement be appended to both the Preface and Introductory Statement that these are published by the order of the General Assembly without referring them to the Presbyteries.

2. Resolved, That said Board be directed to publish for the General Assembly said Confession of Faith and Government, and sell the same at prices fixed by it or to be fixed by the General Assembly.

3. Resolved, That said Board, in consideration of receiving the proceeds of the sale of said book, be directed to pass to the credit of the General Assembly's Contingent Fund the sum of $1,031.15, the amount taken therefrom to defray the cost of the revision of said Confession of Faith and Government. JOHN FRIZZELL.

PREFACE AND INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT.

The report which the committee had submitted to the General Assembly, containing the "Preface and Introductory Statement" of the Confession of Faith, was as follows:

PUBLICATION OF CONFESSION OF FAITH.

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the General Assembly with reference to the publication of the Confession of Faith and Government of the Church respectfully submit the following report:

Referring to the action of the General Assembly on this subject (Minutes 1884, p. 20), it will be seen that the publication was ordered without naming the agency charged with that duty, and this committee was appointed to read proof. While the General Assembly failed to give specific instructions in reference to this matter, yet, from all the circumstances, we were, and are, of opinion that it was the purpose and intention of the General Assembly that the Board of Publication should publish, and that this committee should edit, the book—i. e., furnish the matter.

We were also of opinion that a Preface was necessary to the completeness of the book, and that a short Introductory Statement on Church Government instead of proof-texts to the Constitution would be more acceptable, and therefore prepared such papers for insertion.

After some delay, we learned that the Board had determined that neither of these papers should be inserted, but had decided to insert a Preface prepared by one of the Board, it being an amendment of the one prepared by us. As soon as this came to our knowledge, not having been consulted, we objected, finding that said paper did not harmonize with our views as to what should be stated in a Preface.

Some time afterward, and having in the meantime again considered the whole matter, two of our number addressed the following communication to the Board:

"The undersigned, for the committee appointed by the General Assembly at its last meeting, with reference to the publication, as ordered by it, of the Confession of Faith and Government of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, believing it desirable that a Preface should be printed in said book, have prepared one, and present the same herewith.

"Finding it impracticable to present Scripture proof-texts for each of the various sections of the Constitution, Rules of Discipline, etc., without too much repetition, we have deemed it advisable to give in a short 'Introductory Statement on Church Government' what we regard as Scripture authority for the general or fundamental principles of our Church Government, and said statement is herewith presented, and which should immediately precede the Constitution.

"We are clearly of opinion that without these papers said book would be imperfect and incomplete. S. G. BURNEY,

"Nov. 22, 1884. JOHN FRIZZELL."

"PREFACE.

"The Cumberland Presbyterian Church was organized in Dickson County, Tennessee, February 4, A.D. 1810. It was an outgrowth of the Great Revival of 1800—one of the most powerful revivals that this country has ever witnessed. The founders of the Church were Finis Ewing, Samuel King, and Samuel McAdow. They were ministers in the Presbyterian Church, who rejected the doctrine of election and reprobation as taught in the Westminster Confession of Faith. The causes which led to the formation of the Church are clearly and distinctly set forth in publications issued at the time, and in various tracts and books published subsequently. To these the reader is referred for full information on the subject.

"The Cumberland Presbytery, which was constituted at the time of the organization of the Church, and which originally consisted of only three ministers, was in three years sufficiently large to form three Presbyteries. These Presbyteries, in October, A.D. 1813, met at the Beech Church, in Sumner County, Tennessee, and constituted a Synod. This Synod at once formulated and published a 'Brief Statement,' setting forth the points wherein Cumberland Presbyterians dissented from the Westminster Confession of Faith. They were as follows:

"1. That there are no eternal reprobates.

"2. That Christ died not for a part only, but for all mankind.

"3. That all infants dying in infancy are saved through Christ and the sanctification of the Spirit.

"4. That the Spirit of God operates on the world, or as co-extensively as Christ has made atonement, in such a manner as to leave all men inexcusable.

"At this same meeting of Synod, too, a committee was appointed to prepare a Confession of Faith. The next year, A.D. 1814, at Suggs's Creek Church, Wilson County, Tennessee, the report of the committee was presented to Synod, and the revision of the Westminster Confession of Faith which they presented was unanimously adopted as the Confession of Faith of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Subsequently the formation of the General Assembly took place. This judicature, at its first meeting, A.D. 1829, at Princeton, Kentucky, made such changes in the Form of Government as were demanded by the formation of this new court.

"In compiling the Confession of Faith, the fathers of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church had one leading thought before them, and that was to so modify the Westminster Confession as to eliminate therefrom the doctrine of universal fore-ordination and its legitimate sequences, unconditional election and reprobation, limited atonement, and Divine influence correspondingly circumscribed. All the boldly-defined statements of the doctrine objected to were expunged, and corrected statements were made. But it was impossible to eliminate all the features of hyper-Calvinism from the Westminster Confession of Faith by simply expunging words, phrases, sentences, or even sections, and then attempting to fill the vacancies thus made by corrected statements or other declarations, for the objectionable doctrine, with its logical sequences, pervaded the whole system of theology formulated in that book.

"The compilers knew this, and they also knew that a book thus made must necessarily have some defects. Still they felt assured that they had prepared one which could not be fairly and logically interpreted without contradicting the most objectionable features of hyper-Calvinism; and they felt, too, that they had formulated a system of doctrines which any candid inquirer after truth might understand. They did not, however, claim that the time would never come when there might be a demand for a restatement of these doctrines, which would set forth more clearly and logically the system of theology believed and taught by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. That time did come, and so general was the desire throughout the Church to have the Confession of Faith revised that at the General Assembly which convened in the city of Austin, Texas, A.D. 1881, a paper was introduced looking to that end, and it was adopted by a unanimous vote.

"In view of the great importance of the work, two committees were appointed, and it was made the duty of the first committee to revise the Confession of Faith and Government, and of the second to review and revise the work of the first. The committees met at Lebanon, Tennessee, the seat of Cumberland University, where every facility could be enjoyed for such labors, having free access to a fine theological library. After bestowing great labor upon their work, giving every item earnest and prayerful attention, the committees completed the tasks assigned them, and the results of their labors were published in pamphlet form and in weekly papers of the Church for information, 'that criticism might be made by those desiring to do so.' The committees, after receiving these criticisms, again met and remained in session for a number of days, giving careful and prayerful consideration to all the suggestions made. They then completed their work without a single dissent, and submitted the result to the General Assembly which convened in the city of Huntsville, Alabama, A.D. 1882. That General Assembly, in 'Committee of the Whole,' considered with great patience and care every item in the entire book, taking a vote on each one separately, and at the close of each chapter or subject taking a vote upon it as a whole. In this way the entire book, from beginning to end, was carefully and prayerfully scrutinized, and necessary changes were made—the most of them verbal; and there was not in the final vote a single negative!

"Having completed its work, the General Assembly transmitted the book to the Presbyteries for their approval or disapproval. The reports from the Presbyteries to the next General Assembly, which convened in the city of Nashville, Tennessee, A.D. 1883, showed that this work had been almost unanimously adopted. The General Assembly, having reviewed these returns from the Presbyteries, formally declared said book to be the Confession of Faith and Government of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

"The book is now sent forth with the strongest convictions that it is in accord with the word of God. Let it be tested, not by tradition, but by the Holy Scriptures, the only infallible rule of faith and practice."

"INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT ON CHURCH GOVERNMENT.

"Although no detailed form of Church government is laid down in the New Testament, yet the general or fundamental principles of the same are clearly taught therein.

"Under the Mosaic dispensation Church government was comprised in the civil government.

"During the captivity the synagogue system of worship was established, which, after the captivity, was introduced into Judea, and was in general use at the coming of Christ. In the synagogues Christ and his apostles generally taught. (Matt. xii. 9; Luke iv. 16; John vi. 59; xviii. 20; Acts xiii. 5; xiv. 1; xviii. 4.) The synagogue was under the control of a minister, ruler (Luke viii. 41; xiii. 14), and a bench of elders. Neither Christ nor his apostles introduced any radical change into this mode of religious worship and government, but adopted it as they found it. The polity of the synagogue and of the Jewish ecclesiasticism generally was simply and purely Presbyterian in form—a government by presbyters. This fact is to the English reader somewhat obscured by translating the Greek presbuteros by the English word elder.

"The Church official was called presbuteros (presbyter), and an assembly of these was called presbuterion (Presbytery). (Luke xxii. 66; Acts xxii. 5; 1 Tim. iv. 14.)

"All apostles were elders, but all elders were not apostles. (1 Pet. v. 1.) The apostles had no successors, as such. The chief characteristics of the apostolic office were two—to have seen Christ, and to have been personally called to it. (Acts i. 21–26.) Paul's case was peculiar, but it was not an exception to this rule. (Acts ix. 1–12; xxii. 1–15.) The apostolic office, in its technical sense, therefore, of necessity expired with the death of those personally called by Christ. Others were called apostles, as Barnabas, but not in the sense of those appointed by Christ. The terms elder and bishop in the New Testament denote the same office, the former being current among the Jewish and the latter among the Gentile Churches. (Compare 1 Pet. v. 1, and Phil. i. 1.)

"The New Testament recognizes two kinds of elders—those that labor in doctrine and those that rule. (1 Tim. v. 17.) The former are invested with ministerial and also with governmental functions, and the latter with governmental only. This fact puts both a clerical and a lay element into all Church courts.

"Aside from the apostolic office, which was temporary, the presbyterial was the highest known to the Apostolic Church. Paul, as a presbyter, took part with other presbyters in the ordination of Timothy. (1 Tim. iv. 14; 2 Tim. i. 6.)

"While the elder or presbyter is the highest, it is also the lowest designation of a Church functionary recognized by the New Testament. The grades in the ministry of deacon, elder, bishop, archbishop, etc., are post-apostolic, and are without Scripture authority. The deacon is not a clerical but a laical functionary. (Acts vi. 1–6.)

"The Church courts recognized by the New Testament are Church Sessions (1 Tim. v. 17), Presbyteries (1 Tim. iv. 14), and Synods, or Assemblies (Acts xv. 5–21).

"The following scriptures are relied upon for the exercise of Church discipline: Ezek. xliii. 11, 12; Acts xv. 5, 6; Matt. xviii. 15–20; 1 Cor. v. 4, 5; Heb. xiii. 17; 1 Thess. v. 12, 13; Ezek. xxxiv. 4; 2 Thess. iii. 6, 14, 15; 1 Cor. xi. 27–32.

"The scriptures herein designated show the qualifications which deacons and ruling elders should possess: Acts vi. 1–6; 1 Tim. iii. 8–13; 1 Tim. v. 17; Tit. i. 5, 6; 1 Cor. xiv. 40.

"The following Scripture references give the qualifications which a minister of the gospel should possess, and also the manner in which he should be inducted into that sacred office: 1 Cor. ix. 16; Heb. v. 4; Jer. xx. 9; 1 Tim. iii. 1–7; 2 Tim. ii. 2; 1 Tim. iv. 14; 2 Tim i. 6."

Learning, in response to said communication, that the Board would not insert the matter thus furnished, but was willing to publish an edition without any Preface, the two members of the committee acting in the matter acquiesced for the time and made no further objection, seeing that much delay had already occurred, and knowing the anxiety felt by many for the appearance of the book. It was understood, however, at the time that the committee would submit the whole matter for the action of the General Assembly.

We, therefore, respectfully submit this matter to the General Assembly, not in a captious spirit, but that such action may be had as may seem best.

S. G. BURNEY,
C. H. BELL,
May 21, 1885. JOHN FRIZZELL.

P. S.—It is proper also to state that the Rev. T. C. Blake, who was appointed a member of this committee, believed he was selected simply as a technical proof-reader; and though his views were in perfect accord with those of the committee, he declined to meet with them in their conferences on the subject, believing that it was his duty simply to see that the matter furnished by said committee was correctly printed; and to that position he adhered to the last, refusing to recognize any authority in the premises except that of the committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATION.

Under the Standing Rule, the Committee on Publication submitted a report, pending the consideration of which the General Assembly took recess until 8 o'clock P.M.

TUESDAY, May 26, 8 o'clock P.M.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATION.

The General Assembly resumed the business pending at recess, and the Report of the Committee on Publication was amended and adopted as follows:

Your Committee on Publication would submit the following report:

We have had referred to us the Report of the Board of Publication and a number of memorials and resolutions, upon which we submit the following:

ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

1. The appointment of the Rev. J. P. Sprowls, to fill the position made vacant by the resignation of the Rev. R. M. Tinnon.—Your committee recommend that the General Assembly ratify said action of the Board.

2. Certain changes in the editorial work, which involved the Board's dispensing with the labors of the Rev. J. R. Brown and the Rev. R. V. Foster, and the employment of the Rev. J. M. Howard.—Your committee recommend your indorsement of the action of the Board in the employment of the Rev. J. M. Howard. We recommend further that in view of the earnest, faithful, and efficient labors rendered the Church by the Revs. J. R. Brown and R. V. Foster, and especially by the former in conducting so successfully for many years your weekly periodical, the Cumberland Presbyterian, this General Assembly does hereby re-affirm its former deliverances of appreciation of such a high type of Christian integrity, devotion, zeal, and usefulness.

3. The condition of your paper, the Cumberland Presbyterian.—While, for good and sufficient reasons, there has been some diminution in the patronage given the periodical during the past year, we note with delight the favorable outlook for it as expressed by your Board, and anew reiterate the importance of increased effort for the widest possible circulation of such an invaluable educator in morals and religion.

4. The Sabbath-school Literature.—With great pleasure does your committee mark the increasingly flourishing condition of the Sunday School Gem and Our Lambs, under the very efficient management of Mrs. D. M. Harris.

It is the conviction, too, of this committee that the high standard to which the Sunday School Comments, Lesson-leaf, and Rays of Light have been brought, through the able efforts of those to whom the trust was committed, emboldens your reverend body to make more imperative your demands that all your churches avail themselves of the benefits of their own denominational Sabbath-school periodicals.

5. The employment of the Rev. B. W. McDonnold, to prepare for publication a full History of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.—While your committee entertain the strongest convictions as to the need of, and desire for, such a denominational book at the earliest practicable day, yet, in view of the stringency of the times and the meagerness of the funds of the Board, we respectfully recommend, (1) That your Board exercise great care in the prosecution of said work, lest such a measure result in financial embarrassment. (2) That undue haste be avoided by the author in the proposed History of the Church.

6. The Financial Exhibit of the Board.—It affords us much satisfaction to note the care with which your Board, through its Agent, conducts its business. The following will show the financial status of the Board:

Loss on machinery	$1,380 18
Loss on business	1,983 86
Total loss	$3,364 04
Indebtedness	$10,527 96
Accounts due the House	8,076 86
Net	$ 2,451 10

7. In consideration, therefore, of the foregoing statements, your committee recommend that you hereby express to the members of the Board the high appreciation of this General Assembly of their earnest labors in sustaining such an important enterprise of the Church.

8. We have considered the resolution of the Rev. F. J. Tyler, in reference to the publication of the Rev. W. J. Darby's lectures to the theological students in Cumberland University on Pastoral Theology, and recommend its reference to the Board of Publication, with power to act.

9. A memorial from the students of the Theological Seminary in Cumberland University, in regard to the Rev. S. G. Burney's lectures, was referred to us. We recommend that you refer the subject-matter to the Board of Publication, and direct that they open correspondence with the author upon the subject, and make such arrangement for publication as they regard as safe and equitable, and that they suggest the completion of the copy of said lectures by the author as soon as possible, so as to have them safe from the casualties incident to the uncertainty of human life.

We recommend the adoption of the following resolution, referred to us by you:

THE RESOLUTION.

WHEREAS, The General Assembly, which met at Lebanon, Tennessee, May 16, 1878, appointed a committee, consisting of the Revs. T. C. Blake, J. W. Poindexter, and E. B. Crisman, to review certain matter which had been prepared by the Stated Clerk for a Digest of the Minutes of the General Assembly, and, if approved, to turn said matter over to the Board of Publication, who should proceed to issue the same; and,

WHEREAS, Said committee did meet, review, and revise the matter in hand; and,

WHEREAS, Believing that the publication of such matter would be of great benefit to the Church;

Resolved, That the Revs. T. C. Blake, G. T. Stainback, and Ruling Elder

John Frizzell be appointed a committee to take in hand the matter already prepared, prepare such other matter as is necessary, and report at the next General Assembly as to the advisability of publishing the same in the form of a digest or otherwise. E. T. BOWERS.

In answer to the various resolutions and memorials referred to us concerning the election of the editors of the Church, we recommend the following:

1. That the next General Assembly shall elect an editor-in-chief and an associate editor of the Cumberland Presbyterian and as book editor.

2. That the term of office for the editors shall be four years; except that the associate editor first elected shall hold his office for only two years, so that one editor will thereafter be elected every two years, and the paper will always have one editor of experience.

3. The Board shall have power to fill all vacancies occurring in the editorial department when the General Assembly is not in session, and such arrangement shall last until the meeting of the first General Assembly after the occurrence of such vacancy.

Your committee have had referred to them a memorial from the Indiana Presbytery, asking for certain additional columns in the statistical forms, touching which we recommend the following:

Between the columns for Sabbath-schools and Church Building and Repairing insert blanks as follows: Home Missions, Foreign Missions, Education, Publication, and Ministerial Relief, and after the column for Charity one for miscellaneous purposes.

To obviate the probable confusion that may arise from the possible discrepancies in the reports setting forth the different departments represented, we recommend further that the several Boards report in accordance with their own accounts, and that the General Assembly's statistical exhibit, through its Stated Clerk, be made up from the statistical reports from the congregations in accordance with the statistical forms herein named.

As to the claim of the Rev. J. R. Brown for salary as editor of the Cumberland Presbyterian, we recommend as follows:

1. That a committee, consisting of the Rev. G. T. Stainback and Ruling Elders A. B. Martin and J. H. Fussell, be appointed, who shall investigate said claim and adjust the same.

2. That the Board of Publication shall pay to the said Rev J. R. Brown whatever said committee may decide is his due.

We have had harmonious sittings as a committee, and have earnestly considered and freely spoken over all the issues before us, and cannot allow our report to go before you without sending along with it the accompanying paper, signed by a minority of our committee, while the whole committee sign the report.

S. H. BUCHANAN,
J. REED MORRIS,
J. W. FENDER,
B. F. LEWIS,
W. C. LOGAN,
W. M. STOKES,
J. M. HALSELL.

The General Assembly ordered that the following paper of a minority of the Committee on Publication be spread upon the Minutes; also, that those who desired to record their names as having voted for the adoption of said paper shall have that privilege.

THE PAPER.

While the General Assembly recognizes the right of the Board to dismiss the Rev. J. R. Brown, yet the General Assembly's acceptance of the Board's Annual Report must not be regarded as approving the methods pursued by the Board in this matter.

W. C. LOGAN,
B. F. LEWIS,
W. M. STOKES.

The following members recorded their names:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

The Committee on Education submitted the following report, which was adopted:

Your Committee on Education submit the following:

We must educate. As Christians, we must educate. As Cumberland Presbyterians, we must educate. It is to educate, or, in the race set before us, be left behind by secular educators and by sister denominations. In the world's broad field of battle, Christian institutions of learning are among the most efficient ordinances of our spiritual warfare. It is gratifying to note that of American Colleges five or six to one are under religious control. Our own denomination is not indifferent to the education of its ministry and its children. The practical problem ever recurring is, What more can we now do for this cause?

The excellent report of the Board of Trustees of Cumberland University has been examined with much interest. The increase, both in attendance and endowment, is gratifying, and promises well for the future. Around this institution center our most cherished hopes for the prosperity of the Church. While its general educational work is but a part of what is going on throughout our borders, yet the fact that our coming ministry must be educated there, magnifies its importance, and calls for active and universal co-operation. An adequate endowment for the Theological School is the one great necessity of the present period in our history. It cannot and must not be longer deferred. The relation of the Theological School to all our other enterprises is such that, whatever anxiety may exist for the advancement of any of the latter, the full strength of every portion of the Church should be centered on the former until it is fully equipped. The great increase in the number of theological students during the past few years, and especially the present year, is enough to impress the whole Church with the absolute necessity for a complete equipment of the institution where so many of our young men are in process of training. When increased advantages are offered, the number of those in attendance will correspondingly increase. The Church will hail with joy the day when a reasonable number of her four hundred and fifty probationers for the ministry seek that preparation without which their usefulness must be curtailed. To hasten its coming the General Assembly should project, and the Church push forward to a successful issue, the most vigorous measures. On this subject we recommend:

1. That the Board of Education be authorized and instructed to employ at the earliest possible date, on behalf of the General Assembly and in the name of the whole Church, a competent agent to solicit funds to complete the endowment of Cumberland University.

2. That from the funds first realized from such agency there shall be set apart an amount sufficient to raise the endowment of the Theological Department of the University to one hundred thousand dollars. All moneys raised by such agency shall, as fast as it comes to hand, be turned over to the Trustees of said University, to be by them invested, and the interest thereon appropriated as in the case of other like endowment. The Board of Education shall audit the accounts of the agent at least once each year, and they shall report to the General Assembly, at its stated meetings, what has been accomplished.

3. We recognize the fact that the professors in the Literary Department of the University are performing a great service for the Church in educating a large proportion of our probationers who go to Lebanon. They, as well as the professors in the Theological School, are devoted, loyal, and uncomplaining in spirit, toiling with all their strength to meet the demands of the Church, and yet are but partially paid. Not forgetting this fact, we deem it the duty of the Church first to complete the endowment of the Theological Department.

4. That the whole Church be encouraged to start anew in this enterprise with broader views and in deeper earnestness to give it the precedence which it deserves, and with one united effort to make this great movement a triumphant and speedy success.

5. That the pastors and people be urged not to await the coming of an agent, but rather to forward contributions from public or private collections to those authorized to receive them.

We return herewith the Report of the Board of Trustees of the University for insertion in the Minutes, and with the further recommendation that the several acts of the Board set forth therein be approved.

We call attention to other institutions of learning from which we have information, and heartily commend them to the entire Church, as well as to the particular sections from which they expect their patronage.

Lincoln University, at Lincoln, Ill., has a Classical, Latin, Scientific, and Ladies' Course, also a Conservatory of Music, a Commercial and a Normal Department. The latter is new, the design being to furnish the country with well-qualified teachers. The catalogue shows ten instructors and two hundred and forty-three students, of whom eighteen are in the senior class. During the past year several thousand dollars have been added to the endowment fund.

Trinity University, at Tehuacana, Texas, has good buildings and a productive endowment of $22,000. It also has valuable property that is at present non-productive. Over three hundred students have been in attendance the past year, twenty-three of whom are candidates for the ministry. The University is more prosperous than it has been for years past.

Waynesburg College, in Pennsylvania, has recently completed its efforts to add $30,000 to its endowment fund, and its work is prospering.

Bethel College, at McKenzie, Tenn., is under the care of West Tennessee Synod, and is doing good work.

Ozark College, Greenfield, Mo., has good buildings, with six instructors, and about two hundred students have matriculated during the present scholastic year. It is under the care of Ozark Synod, and is enjoying a rapid growth.

Southern Illinois College, at Enfield, Ill., under the control of Illinois Synod, has been in operation five years, and now has six teachers and one hundred students.

Cumberland Female College, at McMinnville, Tenn., has had a prosperous year, with ten teachers and one hundred and forty-six students; all its departments—music, art, literary, and scientific—being patronized by large classes. The buildings and grounds are worth $25,000, and improvements worth $4,000 have been added the past year. The school was organized in 1850, and is under the care of Middle Tennessee Synod.

Union Female College, at Oxford, Miss., has first-class buildings, an ample corps of instructors, and one hundred students. The college is now free from embarrassment.

At Buffalo Gap, Texas, two hundred and fifty miles west of Tehuacana, an educational institution has been established, which has buildings worth $10,000, one hundred and twenty students, and four instructors.

Efforts are still in progress in behalf of the proposed college in the State of Missouri.

Cane Hill College, belonging to Arkansas Synod, has done, and is still doing, a good work.

While much is being accomplished throughout the Church in behalf of education, it appears from the Report of the Board of Education that the particular work it is designed to accomplish is not fully appreciated. Its aim being to assist young men preparing for the ministry in their efforts to procure an education, it ought to be encouraged with liberal contributions. As we are now in the midst of the educational quarter, the claims of this Board are earnestly commended to our Churches.

Respectfully submitted. W. J. DARBY, Chairman.

MANLOVE PROPOSITION.

It was recommended that the "Manlove Proposition," in reference to the endowment of the Theological School at Lebanon, Tennessee, be kept open until January 1, 1886.

REPORT NO. 2 OF PROOF-READING COMMITTEE.

The following Report No. 2 of the Committee on Reading Proof of the Confession of Faith was adopted:

The undersigned, of the special committee appointed at the last meeting of the General Assembly with reference to the publication of the Confession of Faith and Government, respectfully report:

That by oversight, or from misapprehension, an additional question and answer—number 106—to the Catechism has been added. This was done without the knowledge of the undersigned; and while we attach blame to no one, we are of opinion that this question and answer should be omitted, as it was never acted upon by the Presbyteries.

We also report that by inadvertence either of the undersigned or the proof-reader a proof-text (1 John v. 7) is added to Section 7 of Confession of Faith, page 13, which was not intended to be inserted, and we are of opinion it ought to be taken out.

Respectfully submitted.

REPORT NO. 2 OF COMMITTEE ON MISSIONS.

The following Report No. 2 of the Committee on Missions was read and concurred in:

We recommend that the following report be concurred in, and that it be spread upon the Minutes of the General Assembly.

W. B. FARR, Chairman.

In behalf of the Committee on Co-operation in Foreign Missions appointed at the Belfast meeting of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches throughout the world holding the Presbyterian system, I submit to you the following, viz.:

One of the great objects embraced in the Constitution of this Alliance is "to entertain all subjects directly connected with the work of evangelization, such as the relation of the Christian Church to the evangelization of the world, the distribution of mission-work, and the combination of Church energies." The Philadelphia meeting of the Alliance in 1880 expressed itself as deeply impressed with the importance of close union in the practical work of the mission-field among the Reformed Churches, regarding it as "most desirable and timely were the Churches represented in this council to adopt such measures as in their wisdom might seem meet for maturely considering the question of the best means of further organizing and unifying our evangelism in the several fields in which a plurality of Presbyterian missions are contiguously established, and this in such a manner as to be in harmony with the interests and claims of the parent Churches."

A committee consisting of American and European sections was appointed to present the subject to the several Churches composing the Alliance and report to the next meeting. The committee was further instructed as follows: "Should it become manifest in the meantime that plans of co-operation to some extent can be agreed upon among some of the Churches interested, the said committee are authorized and requested to give such aid in carrying them into effect as may be found practicable."

The report of this committee to the Belfast meeting of the Alliance showed a remarkable degree of harmony on this important subject both in Europe and America. · Communications representing fourteen different Presbyterian Churches, seven in each country, were presented, all strongly indorsing the proposition of the Alliance for the closest possible co-operation in their several mission-fields. The idea of transmitting to heathen lands the differences existing between the various branches of the Presbyterian family was universally deplored. Nearly all were explicit in expressing the wish that there should be but one Presbyterian Church in each mission-field.

Concerning the great end desired there seems to exist but one sentiment, the only difference being as to methods. It may be a number of years before this union and co-operation between the Presbyterian Churches is brought about in all mission-lands, but it will surely come, and it may now be near at hand. In some instances it has already been realized, and its fruits are eminently satisfactory. The following examples are worthy of note: In China, at Amoy, the missions of the English Presbyterian Church and the Reformed Church of the United States have united. Following this example, the feeling for union is growing rapidly throughout the Empire. The missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, the Reformed Church of America, and the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland, in the Empire of Japan, have united with the most happy results. "The Presbyterian Church of Trinidad" consists of the missions of the Free Church of Scotland, the United Presbyterian Church of Scotland, and the Canada Presbyterian Church. The Presbyteries of the Free and the United Presbyterian Churches of Scotland in South Africa have agreed upon a basis of union, and they are also negotiating with the Congregationalists with a view of having one Theological Seminary for the training of native ministers. An interesting development in Scotland is the adoption of a brief statement of doctrine to serve as a formula to be subscribed to by native ministers, licentiates, and elders. This was drawn up by a joint committee of the Established, Free, and United Presbyterian Churches of Scotland. My impression is that we, as Cumberland Presbyterians, would accept it without alteration.

In supporting the New Hebrides Mission, eight Presbyterian bodies unite. In India there are thirteen Presbyterian Churches at work, and the missions are rapidly gravitating toward union. Already a Presbyterian Alliance has been formed, and the prospect is that all will ultimately be together in Presbyteries, Synods, and in one General Assembly of India. Dr. Chamberlain, of Madras, in a speech at Belfast on this subject, said: "This must come. It cannot be prevented. Obstacles may be thrown in the way. The consummation may be deferred, but we, your armies in India, facing a compact, determined foe, must become one army, and God will hasten it."

Such is the spirit of the times on the field where the greatest victories are now being won for Christ. As a denomination we have taken our place before the world as a part of the great Presbyterian family. In response to the request of the Alliance the supreme judicature of this Church, in common with others, is called upon to express itself regarding union and co-operation in the work of Foreign Missions.

As a part of the committee appointed by the Alliance for that purpose, I submit this question to the General Assembly.

I also submit for your approval or modification the following communication, which has been forwarded to the American section of the committee, that will convene in Elizabeth, New Jersey, May 26:

EVANSVILLE, IND., May 20, 1885.

E. Kempshall, D.D., Convener Presbyterian Alliance Committee on Co-operation in Foreign Missions.

DEAR BROTHER:—I very much regret that I cannot attend the meeting of the above committee appointed for the 26th instant, it having been made my duty to attend the General Assembly, which will be in session at that time. I take pleasure in submitting to the committee what I believe to be the sentiment of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church on this subject.

1. We believe union on the Foreign Mission field is desirable, and will cheerfully enter into whatever measures may seem best, looking to that end. Instead of transferring our differences to mission-lands we would gladly join our sister denominations in the plan of establishing one Presbyterian Church in each mission-field.

2. We regard it as very desirable, if not essential, to formulate a short and simple yet comprehensive creed, in harmony with and containing the essential doctrines held by the Churches composing the Alliance, the same to be used in ordaining native ministers, elders, and deacons. A worthy example in this regard has already been exhibited by our brethren of the Churches in Scotland.

3. The Foreign Mission work in the Church at home would be conducted in each denomination as at present, except as the union in the foreign field would naturally bring about a better understanding of each other's methods, mutual correspondence and conference between Boards, together with a general feeling of sympathy and unity of action throughout the Churches, such as could not otherwise be secured.

4. In effecting the desired union, the principal practical point of difference would perhaps be in determining the relation of foreign missionaries to the home Church. The missionaries themselves, who know best the circumstances and needs of each field, are most competent to advise in this matter. If the home Churches will agree to submit this and kindred subjects first to the missionaries themselves, we believe that they through conferences among themselves can speedily arrive at substantial agreement. Whatever the course pursued in the effort to bring about union, difficulties will arise, but we believe a wise adjustment lies in the line of policy here suggested. For illustration, we refer to the experience of the Presbyterian Church of England and the Reformed Church of the United States in China. In a matter of this kind it is safe to make mutual concessions and trust the providence of God.

Believing God will guide us and all branches of our Presbyterian family in a matter involving interests so vital to multitudes in heathen lands, this subject is submitted to your prayerful consideration.

Respectfully, W. J. DARBY, Member of Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SABBATH-SCHOOLS.

The following Report of the Committee on Sabbath-schools was read and concurred in:

Your Committee on Sabbath-schools have had the subject under consideration. Much has been written, and well written, upon this theme, and to many the subject is believed to have been exhausted years ago. If this were so, it would afford no solid reason why there should not be a reiteration of important facts that have been already stated; for line is to be upon line, and precept upon precept; pure minds must be stirred up by way of remembrance. The Israelites were referred to the rock whence they were hewn, and the hole of the pit whence they were digged. This was of much importance to them to check pride in their boasting of their prosperity, and to elicit thankfulness in the bosoms of the devout.

An obscure printer, in an obscure town in England, was induced, on the representation of a female, whose name is forgotten, to provide for the instruction, on the Sabbath, of the wayward youth in the suburbs of his native village. Robert Raikes, at that time, had no idea of the potent instrumentality for good which was then being introduced. It is God's plan to make much of a little—to kindle a great fire from a little matter—to make a mountain to fill the earth from a little stone cut out of the mountain without hands. The inception of Sabbath-schools, as far as man was concerned, was only intended to benefit the few. Not so the purposes of God. Distant lands and unborn generations were in his eye. With man there is what is called chance and accident, but not so with God.

A man was once amusing his friends with a piece of loadstone suspended on a cork in a basin of water. He observed that every time when the loadstone was left at liberty one part of it would uniformly point north. This led to the invention of the mariner's compass, by aid of which missionaries can be borne with certainty to lands to which God in his providence and by his Spirit calls them.

The man, carving letters on the bark of a tree, only thought of the amusement of his children. Not so with God—he had a deeper design. It led to the discovery of the art of printing. And if we were going to form a trio from modern discoveries to contain the most useful of them, the compass, the press, and the Sabbath-school should make up that trio.

There is, perhaps, no subject of greater importance to the Church. It is the nursery of the Church. A field of usefulness opens up in this direction that cannot be successfully cultivated in any other way. Aside from family training, there is no other means of instilling moral principles and making such beneficial and lasting impressions. Around the fireside and at the mother's knee the child receives the first lessons about God and heaven; but next to this the Sabbath-school comes in to perform an important part of the religious work of training the soul for heaven. Many of the young, through this instrumentality, have been guided to a precious Saviour; many others have received impressions that have, in after-life, influenced them to become religious. And, although these truths are so clear, yet we regret that there is comparatively so little being done. There are thousands of children in our midst who are spending the Sabbath-day in a way that leads to pernicious habits.

In view of these and many other considerations that might be mentioned, your committee would recommend:

1. That your ministers stand firm in the Sabbath-school cause, and encourage Sabbath-school conventions as a means calculated to promote the work of religion whereby the young and rising generation may be led to Christ.

2. That your elders and members all feel that it is a duty incumbent upon them to be present on all possible occasions to take part in the Sabbath-school exercises.

3. That your Sabbath-schools be urged to do all that can be done legitimately to organize mission Sabbath-schools wherever openings may be found.

4. That your people co-operate with the American Sunday-school Union where such co-operation appears to be productive of the most good.

5. That your Sabbath-schools be most earnestly urged to patronize the Sunday School Gem, Our Lambs, Sunday School Comments, Lesson Leaf, and Rays of Light. These publications are among the very best Sabbath-school papers found anywhere. They offer freshness, variety, sense, life, and vigor on all their pages. They meet the wants of the times.

A. J. MCGLUMPHY, Chairman.

REPORT NO. 3 OF COMMITTEE ON OVERTURES.

The following Report No. 3 of the Committee on Overtures was read and concurred in:

The Committee on Overtures have examined the memorial from Central Illinois Synod, which has been referred to us, and find that it is upon the subject of statistics, and as the Committee on Publication has already reported on this subject, we ask to be discharged from the further consideration of said memorial. JOHN FRIZZELL, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

The following Report of the Committee on Ministerial Relief was read and adopted:

Your Committee on Ministerial Relief report:

1. That they have had before them the Annual Report of the Board of Ministerial Relief, which they have carefully examined, and find no fault in it, and your committee heartily recommend its approval.

The said report gives unmistakable evidence that the Board is fully alive to its appropriate and important work, and is performing that work in a most satisfactory and praiseworthy manner. No enterprise of our Church commends itself so tenderly to the Christian sympathy of the whole denomination as does this one. Its whole object is to do good to those who need and well deserve the good which they receive.

2. Since this is an enterprise of the whole Church, and since the Presbyteries are the essential integral parts of the whole Church, and since they have the direct oversight and guardianship of all the ministers, it is, therefore, highly important that the Presbyteries, without exception, co-operate with the Board in carrying out the noble purposes for which it has been created. Therefore your committee would hereby earnestly but affectionately call the attention of all the Presbyteries to the workings and requirements of this Board as set forth in their Annual Report; and would further recommend that the Presbyteries order a collection to be taken up at least once a year in all their congregations, and be reported to the Board at Evansville, Indiana, and that December be the month for said collections.

3. Your committee are informed that the Secretary and Treasurer of the Board performs the labor indicated by his offices with great propriety, and that he does it freely and without compensation. Your committee suggest that you gratefully acknowledge this valuable service.

4. Your committee further recommend that you request the Board of Publication to donate a reasonable amount of printing during the year to the Board of Ministerial Relief, say to the amount of twenty-five dollars, if necessary.

Respectfully submitted. J. M. GILL, Chairman.

REPORT NO. 4 OF COMMITTEE ON OVERTURES.

The following Report No. 4 of the Committee on Overtures was read and concurred in:

The Committee on Overtures, to whom was referred the request of the Rev. George N. Clampett, have considered the same, and respectfully report:

This is a proposition to change the line between the Synods of Arkansas and Texas so as to include Louisiana Presbytery within the bounds of the latter Synod. While we do not question the statement that this change is desired by said Presbytery, or a majority of its members, we cannot agree that it is proper for the General Assembly to act in such matters without being asked to do so by the Presbytery as such, and therefore we recommend that said request be not granted. JOHN FRIZZELL, Chairman.

REPORT NO. 2 OF COMMITTEE ON CORRESPONDENCE.

The following Report No. 2 of the Committee on Correspondence was read and unanimously adopted:

Your Special Committee on Correspondence, to whom was referred the address of the retiring Moderator, respectfully submit that they have had the same under careful consideration.

That part of the address which presents the present and prospective relations subsisting between the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and the Methodist Protestant Church demands your very special attention. On page 24 of the "Journal of Proceedings of the General Convention of the Methodist Protestant Church, held at Baltimore, May 16, 1884," we find the following language, it being part of the report of the Committee on Fraternal Relations, viz.: "It should be borne in mind as an historical fact that the General Conference of 1880, at Pittsburgh, was favored with a fraternal visit from the Rev. Dr. Black, of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, who made an able and interesting address, in which he expressed a very ardent desire for a corporate union between that denomination and ours. The corresponding delegate, whose letter is before us, refers to the fact that at their Assembly in 1882 a letter was received from a delegate representing the Methodist Protestant Church, in which was contained a suggestion touching the matter of organic union." On pp. 25, 26, and being part of the same report, we find the following, viz.: "1. That this Convention appoint five commissioners, who shall confer with a like commission of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church on the subject of organic union, and report to the next General Conference." The report was adopted, and the five commissioners appointed.

Now, while we are not disposed to encourage the agitation of the subject of organic union with other bodies where there is not a reasonable prospect of good resulting, yet we are free to say that if the union of our Church with the Methodist Protestant Church can be effected in a way satisfactory to both parties, it is a consummation to be devoutly prayed for. And we venture to say that, so far as we understand the doctrine and polity of that Church, we do not see any very formidable difficulty in the way of the accomplishment of this work. If we are in harmony in doctrine and Church polity, let us combine our forces, thereby strengthening each other's hearts and hands as we go forth to labor in the vineyard of our common Lord and Master.

We submit for your adoption the following recommendation, viz.: That you appoint a committee of five to confer with the commission appointed by the Methodist Protestant Church on the subject of organic union, and report to the next General Assembly.

Respectfully submitted. S. L. RUSSELL, Chairman.

COMMITTEE ON ORGANIC UNION.

The Moderator appointed the following as a Committee on Organic Union with the Methodist Protestant Church: The Revs. S. L. Russell, A. J. McGlumphy, W. H. Black; and Ruling Elders John Frizzell and A. B. Martin.

REPORT NO. 1 OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

The following Report No. 1 of the Committee on Finance was read and adopted:

Your Committee on Finance make the following report:

The Report of the General Assembly's Board of Trustees has been before us, from which it is learned that the Doherty fund is securely invested in bonds, bearing interest which is being annually collected and paid over to the Trustees of Cumberland University, in accordance with the design of the bequest.

We also note with pleasure that the balance of the Woolridge bequest has been collected, and is still in the hands of the Treasurer. We recommend that, in harmony with the design of the donor, this money be placed in the hands of the Trustees of Cumberland University for the benefit of the Beard Endowment.

Your committee are gratified to announce to you the donation of $1,000, made by Mrs. Margaret R. C. Rawlins, deceased, through her husband, Luther Rawlins, of Christian County, Kentucky, for the benefit of the Beard Endowment, which amount has been paid to the Trustees of Cumberland University, as directed.

We learn from the report of the General Assembly's Board of Trustees of a bequest made by Mrs. Clara Donnell, deceased, of Athens, Alabama, which is now in litigation. We recommend that the Board give it the necessary attention until the case shall have been decided.

The General Assembly's Board of Trustees ask that the Treasurer of her Board be authorized to pay any and all traveling expenses incurred by members of said Board in the discharge of their duties as such. We recommend that all such expenses be paid by the Treasurer when presented in an itemized account.

We have had referred to us a memorial from California Presbytery, asking that that Presbytery be released from all past charges of contingent tax, and that they be released from such tax until they shall have continued representation in this body. We recommend that the prayer of the memorialists be granted only in so far as it relates to past indebtedness.

We recommend that the Treasurer of the General Assembly be authorized to pay the bill of expenses incurred by Dr. J. B. Mitchell as the bearer of the greetings of the General Assembly to the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions at Salem, Illinois, in 1884. J. B. GREEN, Chairman.

REPORT NO. 3 OF COMMITTEE ON CORRESPONDENCE.

The following Report No. 3 of the Committee on Correspondence was amended and adopted:

Your Special Committee on Correspondence, to whom was referred the "substance" of the address delivered by the Rev. T. J. Diemer, fraternal delegate from the Cumberland Presbyterian Church (colored), have considered the same, and submit the following, viz.: We are very sure you can find no more inviting field for the exercise of Christian benevolence than is offered you among the colored people of our country. In the mind of your committee there is no field which promises richer harvests in return for liberal sowings than this.

Brother Diemer but voiced the feeling of the great mass of his people when he assured you that they look to you for sympathy and help. They cannot stand alone—not yet. Whose heart was not touched as our brother stood before us and uttered so earnestly the Macedonian cry, "Come over and help us?" We must not forget they are here in our midst. They are our religious wards. God in his all-wise providence has given them to us. We must not shirk the responsibility.

They feel that we are near them, and they confidently expect our help. They must not be disappointed. There are many ways in which we can aid them. There is, perhaps, no service we could render them which would be more gratefully received, or yield better results, than furnishing them our Church literature. We venture to suggest there might be no better disposition made of the Confessions of Faith on hand than to give them to our colored people. They would care nothing for the lacking Preface. The liberality of our people should put a copy of Blake's "Theology Condensed" into the hands of every one of their preachers and candidates for the ministry.

Brother Diemer requested the appointment of a committee to aid them in carrying forward their educational enterprise at Bowling Green, Kentucky. By reference to Minutes of the General Assembly of 1882, at Huntsville, Alabama, we find that a committee, consisting of the Revs. T. C. Blake, D. M. Harris, and J. S. Grider, was appointed for this very purpose.

We have considered the paper referred to us in reference to the employment of the Rev. M. M. Smith to teach Theology in the school at Bowling Green; and while we heartily approve the proposition, we hesitate to recommend any thing that might embarrass the General Assembly financially. We suggest that this matter be left with the proper authorities, and that you direct that collections be taken in all the congregations of the Church, and the money received be forwarded to Mr. H. E. Jenkins, Bowling Green, Kentucky, and applied to the use and benefit of said school.

The fraternal letter from our Evangelical Union brethren in Scotland is hereby returned, as under the rule of the General Assembly it is the business of the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly and his assistant to answer all such letters. S. L. RUSSELL, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE.

The following Report of the Committee on Temperance was adopted:

Your Committee on Temperance would respectfully submit the following report:

The scriptural idea of temperance is embodied in these words, "But I keep under my body and bring it into subjection." The practice of temperance, therefore, consists in placing such restrictions and limitations upon the appetites and passions as will prevent the abuse of the body as to itself and as to its influence upon the mental, moral, and spiritual nature. There is an intimate connection between the body and the mind or soul; and the one must feel the effects of the passions, joys, and sufferings of the other. He is a true Christian hero who, in God's grace, controls the functions of the body so as to maintain it in its best physical condition, and makes it most subservient in its relations to his mental and spiritual nature. The Christian conflict is with the flesh as well as with the world and the devil. The proper control of the body for its own sake, and for the sake of its connection with our spiritual and mental nature, is no mere child's play. It requires decision, and firmness, and restraint upon the appetites and passions of the body so as to secure the best conditions as to itself and as to its relations to a spiritual and immortal nature. A maxim among the Romans—"Mens sana in corpore sano," a sound mind in a sound body—is as true now as it was then.

Such scriptures as "That ye present your bodies a living sacrifice;" "Know ye not that your bodies are members of Christ;" "That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honor;" "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?" "For I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus;" "I pray God your whole body, and soul, and spirit be preserved blameless"—all show the importance to be attached to the proper management of the body, its appetites and passions. Any kind of excess, therefore, that will injure the body is to be avoided.

There are some things, too, that relate to the body, which, while they may not be indulged in to excess, are also forbidden in the word of God. There is a law of Christ relating to Christian influence which interdicts some things that are not wrong in themselves, such as: "Avoid the very appearance of evil;" "If meat maketh my brother to offend, I will eat no more meat while the world standeth." A loyal subject of Christ's kingdom is often called upon for the sake of influence upon others to refrain from indulgence in some things that in themselves are lawful. When we consider that in heaven we are to be made in the likeness of the glorious body of Christ, it is not a matter of small importance as to the manner in which we spend our years in the earthly house of this tabernacle. Under this law of Christian influence and example it may and does often become necessary to refrain from either touching, tasting, or handling things that are in themselves lawful. A small quantity of ardent spirits may have no appreciable effect upon the individual who drinks it, and yet the example may be of incalculable injury to others who may be influenced by it.

In view of the great temptation to excessive use of ardent spirits on the part of moderate dram-drinkers, and of the influence that even a moderate use of it may exert upon others, and especially the young, we earnestly urge "total abstinence" from all intoxicating liquors upon all our people as one of the important methods of ridding the country of the evils of intemperance. We would have our Church enrolled, as in the past, among the temperance Churches of the land, and to do this our people must practice temperance.

Your committee desire further to say that the manufacture or sale of ardent spirits as a beverage is inconsistent with Christian character and the high relation of Church-membership. Your committee learn from a circular referred to them by this General Assembly that the "National Temperance Society and Publication House" has issued a call for a "Centennial Temperance Conference" on the 23d and 24th of September, 1885, in the city of Philadelphia, and that all ministers are requested to preach a sermon on temperance reform on September 20. We recommend that all our ministers be requested to preach a sermon on temperance, and that the Revs. E. K. Squier, A. W. White, J. Reed Morris, A. B. Miller, and any others, not to exceed seven persons, be authorized to attend said Conference as representatives of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Respectfully submitted. J. M. HALSELL, Chairman.

THE HISTORY OF THE CHURCH ON TEMPERANCE.

The motion that the Rev. J. Reed Morris be requested to prepare a brief history of the status of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church on the subject of temperance, for the Centennial Temperance Conference, at Philadelphia, was carried.

CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY.

The following resolutions by the Committee on the Judiciary were adopted, and Ruling Elder John Frizzell, of Nashville, Tenn., was appointed on the committee provided for therein:

Resolved, That a Standing Committee on Judiciary be and the same is hereby created, to be composed of one person learned in the Rules, the Constitution, and Government of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Resolved, That the duty of this committee shall be to receive and answer all questions of a judicial character arising in the interim between the sessions of the General Assembly.

Resolved, That said committee make its reports of all questions determined by it, and that no determination by said committee shall be binding upon the General Assembly as precedents until they shall have been so reported and approved by the General Assembly.

Resolved, That the General Assembly, through its Moderator, appoint the committee, and that the committee serve until the next succeeding General Assembly, and until his successor be appointed.

Respectfully submitted. ANDREW B. MARTIN, Chairman.

PAN-PRESBYTERIAN ALLIANCE.

The following report was read and adopted:

Your committee has fully considered the report of your delegates to the Pan-Presbyterian Council, also the official communication from the Clerk of the Council, and unanimously recommend that you adopt the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, The Council was neither asked nor expected to express approval of our Confession of Faith, but to decide whether it is in harmony with the Consensus of the Reformed Churches; and,

WHEREAS, The Council decided to admit the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to membership in the Alliance, and our delegates to seats in the Council, thereby placing the Alliance upon a basis not inconsistent with our creed; therefore,

Resolved, That this new evidence of a growing catholicity among the members of the great Presbyterian family is hailed with pleasure by this General Assembly representing the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Resolved, That we, as a denomination of Christians, continue to fraternize cordially with the liberal and progressive Churches composing the Alliance, endeavoring, in the true spirit of unity, with them to promote the gospel's advancement throughout the world.

In response to the notice of the Executive Commission regarding the apportionment made upon the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, your committee recommend that the General Assembly agree to meet its obligations in this regard. Not fully understanding the basis on which the assessment has been made, and learning that a portion of said apportionment is for the purpose of liquidating indebtedness incurred before the Cumberland Presbyterian Church became a member of the Alliance, it is recommended that the adjustment of this matter be left to the Executive Commission representing the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and to the Moderator and Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, and when an agreement with the Commission has been effected, that the Treasurer of the General Assembly pay the amount that may be due.

It is recommended that the money reported by A. C. Stewart and W. H. Black as in their hands be placed in the treasury for this purpose, and that the thanks of the Assembly be tendered to those who contributed it.

C. H. BELL, Chairman.

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION—CORRECTION.

My attention having been called to the matter, I state, as Chairman of the Committee on Education, that items one and two (1 and 2) in said report were, by unanimous consent of the committee and of the General Assembly, so amended as to make provision, at present, for the endowment of the Theological Department only of Cumberland University; but I omitted to make the change before passing the report into the hands of the Stated Clerk. PUBLICATION—MINORITY PAPER.

The name of the Rev. B. F. Stephens appears among those signing the minority paper of the Committee on Publication, page 28. This is a mistake; Brother Stephens voted against said paper, and desired to be so recorded, but the Engrossing Clerk misunderstood his meaning, and hence the error. T. C. B., S. C.

I.—MISSIONS.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS OF THE CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

To the General Assembly at Bentonville, Ark., May 21, 1885:

Gratefully recognizing the hand of the Lord in the measure of success in Missions, your Board presents the report of the work under its care for the year ending with April 30, 1885. The Annual Statement of our Mission in Japan, dated December 31, 1884, herewith submitted and made a part of this report, affords gratifying information regarding the progress made, together with the present and prospective demands of the work. Every appreciating heart will ascribe thanksgiving to God for inducing our Church to bestow labor in a field so inviting, and for so greatly blessing the services of our devoted missionaries.

Your Board has commissioned another foreign missionary, Miss Bettie A. Duffield, of Warrensburg, Mo., chosen and recommended by the Woman's Board; she sailed on the 4th of April. The Annual Report of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, to be duly submitted, and which will give evidence of the zeal and fidelity of the women of the Church in their chosen branch of mission-work, is commended to your favorable consideration.

Responses to the repeated calls for two male missionaries to re-enforce the Japan Mission are still anxiously awaited.

During the past year your Board has been in correspondence with several parties who are impressed to enter the foreign field, but for good and sufficient reasons (not, however, of a financial nature) no appointments have been made. The anxiety of our foreign missionaries for re-enforcements to be sent is not greater than the desire of your Board to send them. As soon as the proper parties can be found, they will be sent with as much expedition as the nature of the case will admit. Several persons now have this work on their hearts—what the result may be only God can foresee. At any rate, there is reason for all to join in prayer that God would call from among us laborers for this portion of his vineyard.

The Board has lately resolved to more thoroughly investigate Mexico as a mission-field, with the view of selecting one or more missionaries and a place for work, as the Lord may open the way, and induce Christian workers to devote their labors there.

Missions in the Indian Territory.

Six missionaries, bearing commissions from your Board, are earnestly at work at different points in the Chickasaw, Choctaw, and Cherokee Nations, two of whom receive no salary from the Board; four of them derive a part of their support from its treasury.

In addition to the missionaries, nine native ministers are devotedly engaged in preaching the gospel to their own people. There are in the Territory two Presbyteries, fifteen ordained preachers, seven licentiates, nine candidates, thirty-seven congregations, ——— communicants.

Our missionaries in the Cherokee Nation, assisted by the natives, are endeavoring firmly to establish Christian schools as auxiliaries in the work of evangelization.

The independence of feeling prompting our Indian brethren to self-support as far as possible, and their disposition, as shown by their congregational offerings, to co-operate with the general Church in Foreign Missions, should not only excite admiration, but the more readily call forth from us the assistance needed in strengthening and enlarging the work in portions of the country occupied by these civilized tribes, and in extending the gospel of salvation and its civilizing influences throughout the Territories beyond, where there is as little knowledge of Christ as in Japan. If Americans do not give the gospel to the people of their own Territories, who will do it?

CITY WORK.

Of the City Missions under the care of the Board, the following, namely, Birmingham, Ala.; First German, St. Louis, Mo.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Logansport, Ind.; Meridian, Miss.; Pueblo, Col.; San Antonio, Texas; Sedalia, Mo.; and St. Joseph, Mo., own valuable property, including buildings in which worship is regularly conducted.

With the exception of Meridian Mission, supplied at present by a resident minister, who will serve until a missionary can be secured, the pulpits are all filled by missionaries under appointment of the Board.

Our faithful German Church, although it has not for several years received any financial aid from the Board, is continued as a mission, and is deservedly cherished, especially on account of the work accomplished and to be done among our German population.

Knoxville Mission is the only one embarrassed with debt. Its numerous friends and supporters in East Tennessee Synod will, it is believed, prove themselves equal to the task of removing the encumbrance. The building compares favorably with other church-edifices in the city, and its value is far in excess of the indebtedness.

Three of the above-named missions—Birmingham, Logansport, and Sedalia—expect to become self-sustaining within a year.

A new and elegant building is in process of erection at Sedalia, the old church-structure being inadequate to the necessities of the growing congregation.

Each of the missions, Connellsville, Pa., Emporia, Kan., Fort Smith, Ark., and Tyler, Tex., possesses some property interest.

A suitable man is in demand for the work at Emporia. Connellsville and Fort Smith are supplied with missionaries. The mission at Tyler is temporarily in charge of a brother who generously serves as financial agent, without expense to the cause, except for railroad fare.

At the suggestion of brethren directly interested in the upbuilding of a church at Decatur, Ill., the commencement of active operations has been deferred until the present time. A missionary has just been appointed, under instructions, as in every city mission not supplied with a church-house, to proceed first to gather funds for the erection of a building preparatory to regular preaching services.

Abilene, Tex., has been recently adopted as a mission-station, and arrangements have been made to place a missionary in charge at an early date.

Plans have been prepared and specifications made for a church-house in the city of Louisville, Ky. The building committee now awaits the receipt of more funds, so that there shall be a sufficiency on hand to cover not only the cost of the brick-work, but also that of the roof, whereupon contracts therefor will be made. The financial agent who has been serving in that work having withdrawn from the field, the chairman of the building committee will collect the unpaid subscriptions and solicit new offerings. He will for a time direct his whole attention to the work, with the hope of being speedily prepared to let out contracts for the construction, during the current building season, of a church-house for Cumberland Presbyterians in that city.

While this branch of the home work promises great results in strengthening the stakes of the denomination, the immense mission-fields in the West must be cultivated. Without any standard by which the relative importance of Western and of city missions in the older States can be determined, it seems well to advocate and otherwise promote the interest of each with equal earnestness.

It is the opinion of the Board that the congregations of the Presbyteries and Synods in which the respective city missions in the older States are located should furnish to the Board all the funds needed for the support of such missions, so that all other home missionary contributions may be employed in Church-extension in new fields in the West and in the Indian Territory. The Board will hereafter insist upon this ruling, and enforce it as far as practicable, in order that a more liberal share of its income may be used on our Western borders and on the Pacific Coast. It is the purpose of the Board, if the needed funds are forthcoming, to spend at least two thousand dollars on the Pacific Coast, and to make an aggressive movement in the nearer West—to appoint many men and expend thousands of dollars in Texas, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, and other States and Territories which are calling imperatively for aid. Your Board relies confidently upon the Church for co-operation in this work and to supply the needed funds.

In closing this review of our Missions, your Board heartily commends all of the missionaries abroad and in the home land, and expresses gratitude to God for signal blessings on their labors.

CORRESPONDING MEMBERS OF THE BOARD AND PRESBYTERIAL MISSION SECRETARIES.

With the view of still further developing the Church's power in Missions, the Board, according to a provision of its charter, has chosen twenty-four corresponding members, one in each Synod. It has been the aim to select missionary men, who, for love of Christ and his cause, will study the problem of Missions, correspond with the Board and with Presbyterial Secretaries, inform themselves in regard to inviting mission-points, and represent the Board and advocate the claims of Missions, foreign and home, in Synodical meetings and in Sunday-school and missionary conventions.

The corresponding members and the Presbyterial Mission Secretaries, some of whom have rendered valuable service during the last two years, can be instrumental in arousing the spirit of Missions, and in prompting the Church to open its hand wider and to dispense richer blessings. It will be a labor of love without any financial recompense, except as to expense of postage.

MISSIONARY RECORD.

There has been an increase of one hundred dollars in the receipts of the Missionary Record, indicating a corresponding increase in the circulation. The patronage is far below what it should be—far below what might be considered a reasonable expectation on the part of the Board. The Board relies confidently upon the indorsement and recommendation of the General Assembly to aid in increasing the patronage of this important auxiliary to our work.

The attention of the Board has been called to the discrepancy between the amount of money reported several years ago by the old Board of Missions as having been contributed to the Church at Waco, Tex., and the amount stated by the Trustees as having been received. The General Assembly of 1880 declared that there was no evidence of said Trustees having received more of the money mentioned than $327.50, reported by them as coming into their hands. After careful investigation, it is the opinion of this Board that no more was received, and that the error arose from the Corresponding Secretary considering the amount reported by the financial agent of that work as cash, whereas it was chiefly in subscriptions, a large portion of which was never paid. This statement is made with great pleasure in vindication of the Trustees.

ESTIMATES FOR THE COMING YEAR.

Japan Mission, including needed re-enforcements	$14,095 00
Proposed Mexican Mission	2,000 00
Home Missions	25,000 00
Church-erection	50,000 00
Total	$91,095 00

SUGGESTIONS.

1. That you consider the expediency of appointing some one whose duty it shall be to make an address on Missions some time during the sitting of the General Assembly of 1886. The educative value of such an address by one of your own body will be very great.

2. That some one be selected whose duty it shall be to act as Chairman of the Committee on Missions at the next General Assembly.

3. That in view of the present imperative need of a Church-erection Fund, you appoint the first Sabbath in October as a day whereon all ministers in charge of congregations shall preach on the subject and collect offerings in behalf of this interest; and that in case any congregations do not have services on that day, then such recommendation be observed at their first service thereafter; that you authorize your Board of Missions to appoint an agent, whose duty it shall be to gather offerings for this purpose from the moneyed members of the Church, in order that $50,000 may be secured for Church-erection during the coming year.

4. That a day for concert of prayer for Home Missions and another for Foreign Missions be designated.

All of which, with the Financial Exhibit by the Corresponding Secretary, the Annual Report of the Permanent Committee of Missions of Pacific Synod, together with the Annual Statement of the Japan Mission, is respectfully submitted by

THE BOARD OF MISSIONS OF THE C. P. CHURCH.

JAPAN MISSION.

To the Board of Missions of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.:

The following report of our Mission covers the labors of the year ending Dec. 31, 1884. It is with profound gratitude to God that we submit to you this summary of our work for the past twelve months, and from a sense of responsibility to him that we record the needs of the Mission and of the work for the ensuing year. What we suggest as to the necessities of the work are such things as are forced upon us by the gracious movements of Providence in continuing to open before us fields of labor and doors of usefulness. Acting in a sense as eyes for the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in America, therefore, we call your attention to the extent of the work which we see the Divine hand leading her to undertake; and as ears for the same, can only record the repeated calls of God which we hear, to incite her to devise greater things for him.

From the human side, our first great want is the earnest prayers of the Church that a spirit of greater consecration may possess us as missionaries. The work is great and the workers weak, and all the more is the need of the gift of the Holy Spirit that our hearts may be fervent and our labors fruitful. The work before us demands such wisdom as the Holy Spirit alone can bestow. It is a foundation-laying period, and, if possible, one of the most important stages of the spiritual temple gradually to arise. Pray, therefore, that no hay, nor wood, nor stubble, but only those precious qualities that endure, may enter into it. We ask that supplications be made for the speedy conversion of the land; for the continued outpouring of God's Spirit upon the native brethren and their co-laborers; for a more complete opening of the country for missionary labors, and a spirit of wisdom, charity, and zeal to rest upon all the agencies at work here. Nor can we fail to ask for a continuance of your intercessions in the line of Christ's commission to the Church of all ages. Pray ye, therefore, the Lord of the harvest that he would send forth laborers into his harvest.

This leads us again to call the attention of the Church to the great need of additional missionaries. It is to be feared that there are those who will not give due thought and prayer to this matter under the influence of the feeling that foreign missionaries, seeing the great destitution around them, are apt to forget those portions of the work which they do not see, and so unduly magnify their own wants. This can hardly be possible when it is considered, (1) That there is undoubtedly a deep conviction upon the part of the majority of our denomination that we are not, as a body of professed Christians, doing a tithe of what we could and ought to do in this behalf. (2) It is impossible to draw the picture of this portion of the unsaved world in darker colors than has been done by the inspired apostle to the Gentiles. (3) Nor must it be forgotten that the Saviour had in full view the weakness of the Church, the needs of the home-fields, and all other peculiarities of condition, when he gave the command, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. On the other hand, is there not immense danger threatening the very spiritual life of the Church itself, growing out of its complete absorption in the work of self-enlargement at home? Just as the noise of the busy hammers of the workmen erecting a large mansion for a millionaire may deaden the sound of the alarm-cannon of a vessel sinking at sea, so may an undue zeal of the Church in denominational aggrandizement stop the ears that should hear the alarm sounded by Divine Providence in behalf of a perishing heathen world. The need is urgent and immediate, growing out of several considerations: (1) The attitude of the country toward Christianity is undergoing a change favorable to its propagation. Men of prominence begin to feel, as perhaps never before, that it is a religion whose benefits the country greatly needs. People are to listen to the gospel, and the Japanese Christians themselves continue to be in a revived state and ready to accept great responsibilities in the work of evangelization. (2) God has so blessed our work and enlarged it that the strength of the present force is taxed to the utmost, while there are important features of the work which have to go entirely neglected. Such is the condition of things that we really ought to have two stations in order to keep pace with the various developments of the work. There are constant calls from larger interior towns most urgently pleading for missionaries to locate in their midst to teach them the gospel. But while we ought, and could, if willing as a Church, have two stations, so much more is it imperatively necessary to strengthen the only station we have. (3) There are encouraging prospects also, either of such treaty revisions as will throw the whole country open to foreign residence, or at least to increase travel throughout the land. In such a case our opportunities would be very greatly increased. Add to this again the fact that those coming to the field now would be at least three or four years engaged in indispensable preparatory study of the people and language before they could even favorably begin their labors, and it will be easy to understand that every thing conspires to point to the present time as one of great moment in the matter of re-enforcing us. So far as Japan is concerned, the present hour has gold in its mouth, and the opening unimproved may lose a treasure of opportunity.

It has been something over three years since our first lady missionaries were sent out under the auspices of our Woman's Board. This time has been expended in the study of the language. With the expiration of this apprenticeship, they have begun their more immediate missionary labors. Miss Orr is giving herself to the work amongst the women at the out-station, the province Kii-shiu, while Miss Leavitt gives herself to a similar work in Osaka. Mrs. Drennan has been devoting her time and energies to the Girls' School and English teaching in general. The latter has also given much attention to work amongst a class of young men, medical students and others, of whom there are many in the city, eager to study foreign languages and make advancement in intellectual life. Good results have come from this work. The married ladies still maintain their usual meetings, which demand an increasing care as the number in attendance increases.

The Girls' School began its work the 8th of January, in the property purchased on the Foreign Concession. In the report submitted to you last year it was stated: "According to the last Annual Report, it was stated to be the Mission's desire that the Girls' School should be located in the southern part of the city of Osaka. It was thought that by such a policy the Japanese brethren would thus be led to feel more their responsibility for its success. The decision of its location being left to them, after duly considering the subject, they felt that the difficulties in the way of putting it in the city were greater than could be overcome at present." In accordance with this decision, the school was opened upon the Concession. As the Mission were considering the matter later in the year of erecting dormitories and school-rooms, some of the difficulties which had previously influenced the brethren in coming to their first decision seemed to them to be removable. As the erection of permanent buildings might entail a loss of money in case of removal afterward, or else render it altogether impossible, the brethren felt that if any thing was done by them it should be done immediately. The following is the statement submitted to, and the agreement sanctioned by, them, on the basis of which steps were taken looking to the transference of the school to the care of the native Church and its location in the city:

"The object of the Woman's Board of Missions of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church is to co-operate with the native Church of Japan in building up an enlightened Christianity. For this end they have sent out lady missionaries. As female education is one of the most important means thereto, they have sent some of these missionaries to be Christian educators, and have also made a contribution of money (1) to build them a home; (2) to aid them in school-work. One year ago you (the native Church) requested the Mission to locate the school for the time being upon the Foreign Concession. If the school remains as located, it will be the object of the Mission to work it in the interest of our Church in Japan, and a committee of the Church for advice and co-operation is respectfully requested to be appointed by you.

"If the school is removed, then (1) the Churches of Kii-shiu must first be consulted, as well as that of Osaka. (2) The school, if located at Osaka, and by foreign funds, will be upon the conditions: (a) That the money shall be a loan to the native Church on long time without interest; (b) that the loan may be paid back in monthly, quarterly, or annual installments, as the Church may elect; (c) that the difference in land-rent between the Foreign Concession and the city may be credited to the account of the native Church annually as part payment; (d) the missionaries engaged in the school-work shall own their own houses; (e) the agents of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church shall own the dormitory and school-buildings until paid for; (f) the tuition and room-rent shall go to defray the running expenses of the school; (g) the Mission will not pay the salary of an English-speaking Japanese teacher, except as such a teacher shall be an interpreter for a missionary who does not understand the language; (h) after the first year the Mission will decrease its application for aid to meet running expenses one-fifth per annum; (i) the Mission will not be responsible for any payments of money from missionary funds without their consent previously obtained; (j) the money advanced as a loan must be paid back within ten years; (k) the Mission will be responsible for no payments of money not herein provided for."

In accordance with this agreement, the native Church elected two trustees, and proceeded to select a location for the school. A very desirable lot was found in the south-eastern portion of the city, and $960 paid for it out of the funds left over from the purchase of the property now owned upon the Concession. If the Government grants the Church permission to establish the school in the city, and to employ a foreign teacher or teachers to live there, then it is proposed to sell all, or a necessary portion, of the Concession property, and out of the proceeds build the needed buildings in the city. The purchase of the lot in the city before receiving a permit for the school to be located there, grew out of the necessity of having a definite locality fixed upon in making an application to the Government, and also to prevent any combinations to run up the price of desirable property in case the permit might be granted. Of course there are some risks to be run in this matter. The Government may not be willing to approve the president of the school, and thus delay be rendered necessary in the selection of a new one, or may not be willing to grant the permit at all. There will be more danger to the buildings from fire than there would be upon the Foreign Concession. There may be a long time required in order to obtain the necessary permission for the foreign teachers to live in the city, even after every thing has been approved. Until the property is paid for, the ownership of it by the Mission will be only moral, and not legal. The desirability, however, in the estimation of the Mission, of throwing as far as possible the responsibility of the school upon the native Church, and of making it really theirs, is so great as to fully justify all the possible risks involved. In the meanwhile, the school continues to go on as begun, and will not be suspended a day, even because of any want of certainty as to its ultimate permanent location. Appropriations for the school-year, beginning September, 1885, will be needed for the employment of Japanese teachers, purchase of school-apparatus, including an outfit for teaching Kindergarten methods, house repairs, and a contingent fund.

In regard to other school-work, there is but little to report. The one in charge of the Girls' School has met a class of young men daily in English and biblical studies, and has also maintained a weekly meeting for instruction in moral and scientific subjects. With the exception of several young men who are pursuing theological studies under our immediate supervision, our other young men are being educated in the American Board School at Kioto. Such good results have followed from what little has been attempted, as mentioned above, to justify us in feeling that there is a vast field of usefulness open to some who are willing to consecrate their time and energies to a work second to none in importance—that is, the work of Christian education among young men. The kind of educator needed to inaugurate such a work should be one who has graduated from some American college and a thorough-going Christian, who has some ability for acquiring language, and who is willing to spend several years patiently in the study of this language and people preliminary to his work. If he is one who is willing to spend his life in a work which will be heartily appreciated by Christ alone, and address himself to it because of love for Christ and his work as the Saviour's work, there is a field of vast importance before him.

During the year religious book-depositories have been established in several new centers. Those in charge of them have been selected by the resident believers of their respective places. They receive no salary, save a percentage from the sale of books. They combine this work with that of direct evangelization, and have proved themselves to be men in whom the brethren can repose confidence, and whose labors have been blessed of the Lord. Through the generosity of a Christian woman in Missouri, several thousand copies of different portions of the Scriptures have been given away judiciously through the same agencies. Much is due to the efficient co-operation of the Agent of the American Bible Society, Rev. H. Loomis, in the matter of the sale of Scriptures in our fields of labor. In some instances men have presented themselves for baptism whose only instruction has been that gleaned by a study of the word.

The new publications of the Mission are the Directory of Worship of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, a Hand-book of Systematic Theology, and a useful little calendar for Christian households. The latter is the work of one of the missionaries of the Woman's Board. Ten thousand copies of a tract, prepared by a member of the Mission, have been printed and circulated by the American Tract Society. There is still a vast field to be occupied in the direction of Christian literature, and upon us as a Church will fall something of the responsibility for its preparation. So far as any of our works are peculiarly denominational, they will, very properly, have to be made at our own expense. There are other agencies, however, that are doing a good work in giving the country an undenominational Christian literature.

The year just closed has shown a continued progress in the growth of Christ's kingdom here. The impetus given to the work by the outpouring of God's Spirit during the week of prayer last year seems not only not to have waned, but steadily to have widened its beneficial results. Obstacles seem to have been more and more removed, and more powerful influences set to work to encompass the success of the gospel under the guidance of Divine Providence. The standing of all religions in the eye of the Government more nearly approaches that of religious toleration.

There seems to be foundation for the opinion that some of the leaders of Japanese thought and of influence in Japanese politics are not averse to the Christianization of their country. One of the Emperor's Privy Council has petitioned the Government to employ Christian teachers to give instruction in Christian morals in all the schools, from the university down to the primary. Another prominent man, as the results of his investigations abroad, has memorialized the Emperor in behalf of the introduction of Christianity. There are some occurrences also which are significant of Japan's position in the Orient, and as forecasting what may become very common if these islands should become converted to Christ. The teacher of the Chinese language and literature in the Imperial University, Tokio, is an earnest Christian, having been one of the pupils of Dr. Martin, of Peking, and by him led to Christ. At Yokohama a Chinese Mission and Sabbath-school have been established with encouraging results. The "Hermit Nation" (Corea), so recently opened for commerce to the Western Powers through the successful negotiations of Commodore Shufeldt, is looking upon the movements in Japan with profound interest. A few days ago that Government sent one of its learned men (its historian) to this land in order to investigate its condition since the introduction of Western arts and sciences. This man, Rijutei, became a Christian, and is now employed by the American Bible Society in translating the gospel into his native language. The account of his conversion and work, as given by the agent of that society, is full of interest. While investigating the subject of Christianity he dreamed that two men appeared who offered him books, and he was told that these were the most useful of all things for his people. When it was asked, "What books are they?" it was replied, "These are Bibles." So deeply impressed was the man by his dream, and also by the truths he heard, that he soon became a Christian, and from that time has been earnestly at work for the salvation of his people. His growth in grace and knowledge of God's word has been marked and rapid. Through his labors several other Coreans have become Christians. Some of these are students in some of the Tokio Mission Schools preparatory to work amongst their own people. A number of other prominent Coreans, in this country for temporary residence, have applied to him to be taught the doctrines of Christ. Certainly in all this there is such a prophecy of what might be in regard to the evangelization of other Eastern nations by the help of a Christian Japan, as to stimulate the Church in Christian lands to devise more liberal things for the speedy conversion of her people. "And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. Lift up thine eyes round about and see: all they gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side." With prophecy thus being so manifestly fulfilled by the blessings of the great Head of the Church upon Mission-work in these "ends of the earth," the time has surely gone by when it is necessary to make any other appeals to Christians to vindicate the claims of Foreign Missions to a prominent place in their prayers and alms.

In the early part of October the brethren of the various Churches, of which there are now three formally organized, sent representatives to meet with the Osaka Church, and take steps for a better organization. They were in session about one week, and considered such topics as Form of Government, Confession of Faith, Missions, and Educational Work. The missionaries were called on occasionally for advice, but sustained to them no other than an advisory relation.

They organized themselves into a temporary body, to meet semi-annually. As they have yet no ordained pastors, they arranged to have a representation from the elders and brethren of the various Churches until such time as they can be supplied with pastors sufficient in number for a regularly organized Presbytery. They arranged for the maintenance of their own evangelists with an earnestness and consecration that makes the outlook encouraging. They also planned to pay at least one-third of the means necessary to educate their young men for the ministry in those cases where it may be necessary to give assistance. They canvassed measures for assisting in defraying the expenses of the Girls' School, and looking forward to the time when the burden of all its expenses would be borne by themselves. There were some heated discussions, but the result of their deliberations was harmonious.

Two churches have been built during the past year—the first one at Shingu, the extremest point in the province of Kii-shiu. It was undertaken when the number of baptized believers there was only four, and none of them "well-to-do" in this world's goods. Yet God, who always honors faith in him, blessed them with hearts to expect great things from him and to undertake great things for him. The people of the village came generously to their aid, and a handsome little church was built and dedicated. The other house was built by the Church in Osaka, and dedicated last October. It is a very beautiful little chapel, and adapted to the present wants of the Church. While other places have not built churches, yet they have all taken upon themselves the support of their own places of worship.

The moneys raised and expended by the native Church during the period covered by this report aggregates the sum of seven hundred and forty-six dollars and nineteen cents, viz.:

Osaka church-building	$360 00
Shingu church	322 00
Educational	11 61
Missions	52 58
Total	$746 19

This averages about six dollars per member. There are other expenditures, such as for burials, union meetings, and care of the poor, not enumerated in the above amount.

Last year we reported but one organized Church—that is, having deacons and elders. This was located in Osaka, the baptized believers in Kii-shiu being attached to it. Since that time, however, the Christians in Shingu, about one hundred and ninety miles away, and those in Hikata, about sixty miles distant, have elected elders and deacons, who have been ordained accordingly. These Churches, having no pastors, have had to resort to the method of selecting elders who possess some ability for public speaking and pastoral oversight. This must answer until pastors can be raised up and trained for their work. Seventy-three persons by baptism and four by letter have been received into membership since our last report. This brings the present membership up to one hundred and twenty-four. While the greater number of these are permanently located in different centers, yet here and there some of them are separated at a distance from their Churches. In nearly every such instance such persons prove to be the "seed of the Church" in the community where they reside. Three or four of our young men are now in America. Several of them are in San Francisco, where, for want of a Cumberland Presbyterian Church, they must necessarily be looked after by other Churches. One is in Lebanon, Tenn. But for all these we bespeak the sympathy and, where possible, the Christian fellowship of our brethren.

Prayer-meetings are maintained in some six different centers. There are also Sabbath-schools, with an average attendance of one hundred and twenty.

The Church takes very aggressive ground in regard to the use of wine and tobacco. While it has made no formal utterances upon these subjects, yet the use of such things by non-Christians has such associations that persons coming into the Church naturally feel that such habits should be renounced as being inconsistent with Christian character. (As missionaries, we have not been very solicitous to correct such an impression.)

Of course there is "shade" as well as "light" in the picture. There are difficulties in the work growing out of imperfectly sanctified character, but only such as is common to all Christian work of a like nature. We commend our cause again to your sympathy and prayers, hoping that the coming year will see our Mission re-enforced and God's Spirit poured out more abundantly than ever. Respectfully,

A. D. HAIL,
Cor. Sec'y Japan Mission C. P. Church.

REPORT OF PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON MISSIONS OF PACIFIC SYNOD.

To the Board of Missions of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, Mo.:

FATHERS AND BRETHREN:—In attempting to report to you our work in California for the year ending May 1, A.D. 1885, but few words need be written. We have no important advance to report, while the receipts for the year are considerably below our expectations, and slightly below our expenditures. We have been able, however, to aid in a small measure our struggling little Church at Visalia, and, thus encouraged, they have made a noble record. Their new house of worship has been projected, completed, and dedicated free of debt, since our last report. The outlook in that important center is now more hopeful than at any time since the burning of their beautiful house of worship several years ago. But they will still need help for a time.

An appropriation of twenty dollars per month is still made to the San Jose Church, but we are hoping soon to report this aid unnecessary.

We had hoped at this time to report a definite beginning of our work in Oakland, but in this our hope is again deferred. Our Suisun property has not yet been sold, and, failing in this, and in our hope that your Board would be able to aid us in commencing so important an enterprise, we have been compelled to wait. The small amount of money we have in hand is not available for the general purposes of our work, as the greater part of it belongs to our Special Chinese Mission Fund. We had also hoped to raise at least one thousand dollars within the present Synodical year for the beginning of the work in Oakland. But the present indications do not encourage this hope, though some of our Churches have done nobly in this direction. In addition to all that we can hope to raise in our own State, we shall need at least two thousand dollars the current year, in order to begin our work in Oakland and maintain a general missionary, which is a very pressing need with us now. With an appropriation by your Board of two thousand dollars, to be paid quarterly, payment to begin as soon as a suitable leader could be secured for the work, the Oakland enterprise could be auspiciously begun. The time was when such an enterprise would have cost less. The time is not distant when it will cost more than at the present. But it is needless to dwell on the value of such an enterprise to our whole work on the Coast. This is obvious. And Oakland is only one of many important and growing centers which we ought to occupy at once. There is a very great need of organizing and evangelistic work in Southern California. But whoever does such work must be sustained, in part at least, from without.

Firmly believing that you will do all for this great field that God through his servants in the Church will enable you to do, we commit it all to him, while we shall continue to labor and wait. The Treasurer's statement is appended. Cordially yours, D. E. BUSHNELL,

Chairman Permanent Committee Pacific Synod.

CONSTITUTION OF THE BOARD.

At our last meeting of the Board (April 11th), it was voted that it had become necessary to revise the Constitution of the Board, so as to provide and explain more fully the requirements of each office and its member. We, therefore, recommend the following change:

ARTICLE I. This society shall be called the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

ART. II. The object of this Board shall be to promote an interest among the Christian women of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in behalf of Foreign Missions and American Indians, and to work in co-operation with the General Assembly's Board of Missions in sending the gospel to the heathen—especially to heathen women and children.

ART. III. The Board shall consist of seven members, four of whom shall constitute a quorum. They shall elect their own officers, and employ such assistants as the necessities of the work may demand.

ART. IV. They shall have power to appoint a Vice-president for each Synod, whose duty it shall be to hold annually a meeting in connection with Synods; a Board of Managers, who shall devise and use means for extending missionary influence in the Church; also to seek and recommend to the Board suitable women for missionaries; an Auditor, who shall examine thoroughly all books and papers of the Treasurer, and furnish a certificate of the result of the same to the Board.

ART. V. The meetings of the Board shall be held monthly, or oftener, at the call of the President. There shall be an annual meeting, at which each Auxiliary Society shall be entitled to two delegates. At each annual meeting an address by the President, reports from the Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, shall be presented, members of the Board elected, and other business transacted.

ART. VI. Any number of women contributing $1 annually may form a society auxiliary to the Board.

ART. VII. The Board shall have power to make all necessary by-laws and fill vacancies occurring during the year.

ART. VIII. The payment of $30 will constitute a life-membership of this Board, providing this sum exceed the regular dues of any Auxiliary Society.

ART. IX. This Constitution may be altered or amended by a vote of two-thirds of the members at any annual meeting.

OFFICERS FOR 1885-6.—MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.—Mrs. R. B. Ruston, President; Mrs. N. A. Lyon, Vice-president; Miss Anna Forsythe, Foreign Secretary; Mrs. D. A. Nisbet, Recording Secretary; Mrs. W. J. Darby, Committee on Literature; Mrs. Alvah Johnson, Committee on Children's Work.

II.—PUBLICATION.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

To the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church:

REVEREND AND DEAR BRETHREN:—The assembling of your reverend body calls us before you with another Annual Report. The time since we last responded to such a summons seems so short that we are sensibly admonished of the rapid flight of the years. Without vain regrets for the past, or rash promises for the future, we all have cause to fear that, before we are aware of it, our lives will have passed away, leaving but partly done the work we are all the while intending to accomplish. With us the year's work, whatever its results, has not been more free from difficulty and care than former ones. In this report we can allude only to some of its leading features.

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.

Since our last report the Rev. R. M. Tinnon has removed from Nashville, Tenn., to Fort Worth, Texas. His great distance from our place of meeting made it necessary for him to resign his position as member and Secretary of our Board. His good judgment, industry, and eminent Christian character made him one of our most valuable members. He performed much unrequited labor for the Church, and deserves from it a large measure of gratitude. It was with sincere regret that we accepted his resignation. His place was filled by the election of the Rev. J. P. Sprowls, D.D., of Nashville, Tenn., as a member, and also as Secretary. He accepted the position, and acted for some weeks, when he, for reasons satisfactory to himself, tendered his resignation. The resignation has not been accepted, and we are confident it will be withdrawn. We know of no one, in our opinion, more thoroughly competent to fill the position.

EDITORIAL ARRANGEMENTS.

During the year, from considerations of economy, convenience, and other more important interests of your publishing work, we found it necessary, in our opinion, to make changes in the editorial work, which involved dispensing with the services of the Rev. J. R. Brown, D.D., and the Rev. R. V. Foster, D.D. We secured the services, at a salary of $1,500, of the Rev. J. M. Howard, D.D., of Carmichaels, Pa. It was expected that his work would be the editing of the Sunday-school Comments, Rays of Light, and Lesson Leaf, the editing of all the books, and, to a limited extent, assisting Dr. Harris on the Cumberland Presbyterian. At his urgent request, with the assent of Dr. Harris, the arrangement was modified so as to divide between them the book-editing and work on the Sunday-school periodicals named, thus allowing him more time on the Cumberland Presbyterian. The qualifications of Dr. Howard for the work in question we think need no commendation from us.

Dr. Brown, from 1874 up to the year 1883, was the sole editor of the Cumberland Presbyterian, and from the latter period to the 1st of April last was associate editor with Dr. Harris. Our personal relations with him have always been of the most pleasant character. His piety and purity of life have been beyond question; his untiring industry in the discharge of his official duties has been beyond complaint; his management of the paper was conservative and, for the most part, prudent. Sharing with the rest of us the weaknesses of men, his faults were mainly of a negative character.

Every member of the Board entertains the kindest wishes for his future happiness and usefulness. As our action in regard to him has been the subject of some unkind comment, we desire to say that it was induced by nothing but the clearest conviction that the interests intrusted to our hands demanded it.

In this connection we would submit a few thoughts of a general nature. As a Board of the Church our mission will not be fulfilled by merely maintaining the ground we have gained in the past. Nothing but continued progress will satisfy either our ambition or our conception of duty. There can be no substantial progress which does not recognize the duty of a Board to supersede even a good man by a better one when the latter can be found. Recognizing this principle of action, we have endeavored, in all conflicts between our personal sympathies and the interests of the Church, to ignore the one and keep our eyes steadily fixed on the other. No other policy becomes honest men, or is worthy the respect of the Church. If personal interests undertake to cast themselves athwart the way of the Church's progress, there can be no question as to which must yield. In carrying out this policy some one must decide upon the merits of men. As to all the employees of our Board, including the editors, that power has been lodged with us. In the recent exercise of it, we have combined with firmness all the care, deliberation, and discreetness of which we were capable.

OUR FINANCES.

For the details of the business for the year and of the financial situation we refer you to the Report of the Agent, Mr. T. M. Hurst, which is herewith transmitted. It has not been so prosperous a year with us as the year preceding. This, we think, is mainly due to the general business depression which has been prevailing throughout the country. For the last month or two, however, there has been a marked improvement in our business, which we regard as evidence that this depression is gradually yielding to a returning activity. A heavy diminution in our job-work has prevailed throughout the year, but the outlook as to it is now decidedly encouraging.

The balance-sheet contains, properly as a matter of book-keeping, various items of both profit and loss which are not actual. The actual financial result of the year's business will appear by the following statement:

Losses as shown by Profit and Loss Account	$27,806 80

The above statement, it must be remembered, includes only such expenditures as can be charged directly and exclusively to some one department of the work. It does not include the general expenses incurred for the joint benefit of all these departments, and which cannot be apportioned with any degree of accuracy.

The Board determined, for one year at least, to make the Sunday-school Periodicals what the Church seemed to demand, both as to quality and price, without any very careful regard for financial results. We think the Church is satisfied with them, and it only requires increased patronage to make them a financial success.

The loss in the business, as before stated, is partly due to the generally prevailing business depression. It is to be remembered, also, that in increasing the list of the Cumberland Presbyterian during the latter part of the last financial year, that year got the credit for a large number of subscriptions which had to be filled out at the expense of this year. It is evident, however, that we must curtail some expenses, and still further increase the patronage of the House. The indebtedness is $10,527.96, and is balanced partially by debts due the House amounting to $8,076.86.

The Cumberland Presbyterian.

The subscriptions to the Cumberland Presbyterian began to diminish early in the year, and continued till the close. The number now is 9,700. The cause of this diminution may, in addition to the depression in business, be to some extent owing to a general relaxation of effort usually following a more than ordinary effort to swell the list. As to the merits of the paper, we prefer it should speak for itself. The importance of this periodical in a monetary point of view, however great, is secondary to its great value as a denominational organ. That a periodical commanding the patronage of an entire Church or nation can be made better than when dependent upon local support, needs no other evidence than what we daily have before our eyes in the field of newspaper and literary journalism. As a means of communication with so vast a number of readers, its value is beyond estimate. For every writer to be able to address 50,000 readers instead of 5,000, increases his power tenfold. For 50,000 persons to be all united as the readers of one paper, instead of being distributed among ten different ones, is to unify their thoughts, sympathies, and efforts. Whatever demand there may be for the provincial journal, the necessity for the metropolitan journal is unquestioned and unquestionable. Were the circulation of this paper increased to 20,000, its usefulness as well as its pecuniary value to the Church would be increased not less than fivefold.

The Sunday-school Periodicals.

These periodicals are, we think, better and more prosperous than they have ever been. Mrs. Harris's work on the Sunday-school Gem and Our Lambs is, so far as we are advised, giving a very high degree of satisfaction. The Sunday-school Comments and Lesson Leaf, under Dr. Foster's editorship, have continued to increase in circulation from the beginning of their publication. The Rays of Light has been a success from the time it was issued. We regret exceedingly to sever Dr. Foster's connection with these periodicals. So reluctant were we to do so that although in our contract with Dr.

Howard we provided that he should edit them, yet we, without his knowledge, reserved in our own minds the question whether we could and should not continue Dr. Foster as their editor. Economy, however, as well as some considerations of convenience, seem to demand that we should have all the editorial work of the House done by Drs. Harris and Howard, and Mrs. Harris. Our relations with Dr. Foster have been of the most pleasant character, and in the severance of his official relations we have found him ready to cheerfully acquiesce in any thing thought to be for the general good. The circulation of these periodicals is as follows: Sunday-school Gem, 12,000; Our Lambs, 14,000; Lesson Leaf, 17,000; Sunday-school Comments, 11,000; Rays of Light, 7,000.

Books.

We have made but little progress this year in publishing books, save in getting out some new editions of those heretofore published. We have had several manuscripts presented for publication, but found it impracticable to secure the proper consideration of them for want of a Book Editor. The Board's policy in regard to new books is to publish none in the future that are not first-class. There are men and women in the Church capable of writing books of that character. They need, however, the leading and stimulating influence of a competent Book Editor to develop their latent talents and suggest to them the greatest needs of our Church literature. We have contracted with the Rev. B. W. McDonnold, D.D., to write a thorough History of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. His literary qualifications, his extended knowledge of the Church's history, and his patient industry in whatever he undertakes, give the greatest assurance that the work will be one of which the Church may justly be proud. He has already entered zealously upon his work, giving his entire time to it. It is the purpose of the Board to make similar engagements for other books during the coming year.

Asking you to add your prayers to our own invocation of Divine blessing upon our feeble efforts for the coming year, we consign to history the successes and failures of the past.

Your brethren and co-workers,

JOHN M. GAUT,
P. H. MANLOVE,
W. F. NISBET,
THOMAS W. CAMPBELL,
E. WATERHOUSE,
ISAAC T. RHEA.

Agent's Report.

To the Board of Publication of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church:

GENTLEMEN:—I submit herewith our balance-sheet showing the condition of our business on the 30th day of April, 1885.

You will see that our efforts have not been so successful as they were during the past two years. We have done our best, but this has been a hard year, as you have no doubt realized. We regret our inability to make a better showing, but the facts demand candor, and we submit this report.

Life has its days of prosperity and its days of adversity. So has our Publishing House. This has not been one of our most prosperous years, and while we regret this, we are glad to report that there is an improvement in some departments of our business, and that the outlook is much more promising than at any time during the past twelve months.

The increase in the circulation of our Sunday-school papers has been considerable, but it is necessary to still further enlarge their patronage to make them self-sustaining. So far they are giving satisfaction, except in a financial way. To overcome this we must increase the circulation and not the price. The indications lead me to think that this can easily be accomplished.

The circulation of the Cumberland Presbyterian has fallen off, but in al other respects this periodical is giving satisfaction, so far as I know. It is receiving the strongest commendations from our people. Its liberal support means much to this enterprise, as it does, no doubt, to all of our Church-work. As a rule, the congregations that patronize it liberally use our Sunday-school papers and buy our books. Its circulation is in the hands of the Church.

Our Book and Job-work is now furnishing grounds for hope for an increased business during the coming year.

During the year just closing our expenses have been rather too heavy for our business. These should be curtailed for the coming year.

With economy, industry, the united efforts of the Church, and the blessings of God, we have indeed a bright future.

Respectfully, T. M. HURST, Agent.

AUDITOR'S REPORT.

To the Board of Publication of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church:

I, J. W. Watkins, having audited the cash account of your Agent for the fiscal year ending April 30, 18·5, do certify that the same is found correct; and I hereby take pleasure in stating that I find in your office one of the most complete systems by which mistakes may be discovered that I have ever examined.

Respectfully, J. W. WATKINS, Auditor.

III.—MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MINISTERIAL RELIEF OF THE CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

To the General Assembly, in session at Bentonville, Ark., May, 1885:

The Board of Ministerial Relief herewith submits its Fourth Annual Report.

1. The year has been one of great encouragement, showing that this cause is taking deeper hold upon the hearts of the people. It has made many friends, and we feel sure it has lost none. The right of this enterprise to a place among the benevolences of the Church has been abundantly proved. As the facts become known which show the necessity for this work and the good it is doing, the number of its supporters must increase and its influence widen. The best help, therefore, which our friends can render is simply a statement of facts showing what we are doing and what needs to be done.

2. Since the organization of the Board we have been obliged to decline only one application for aid. This is owing to the great care exercised by the Presbyteries in making recommendations. We hope this will continue, so that if any dissatisfaction should arise it will be simply local, and will be confined to limits where all the facts can be fully known. The Presbytery must recognize its responsibility in each case, and must meet it fairly and with justice, both to the applicant and to the whole Church. It is also the duty of the Presbytery to inquire into the situation of those who may seem to need aid, and not wait for them to make a formal application. Thus the assistance rendered will be doubly welcome because of the manner in which it comes. No fear of imposition from this class of persons need be felt. The danger is they may suffer too long before they consent to make their wants known. They must be made to feel that this enterprise is founded upon justice as well as charity, and that the Church proffers assistance to those who have served it faithfully, or to their needy ones, because it is right. We desire that these two phases of the work should be kept constantly in mind by the Presbyteries.

3. Some changes occur from year to year in the list of beneficiaries, and you will observe the number gradually increases. The first year there were four; the second, twelve; the third, sixteen; and this year we report twenty-five. Of these, thirteen are disabled ministers and twelve are the families of deceased ministers. The list represents about sixty-five persons, who are comforted by the voluntary offerings of the Church which they or theirs served in the days of prosperity and strength.

4. We submit herewith for your inspection the applications for relief that have been made out and forwarded to the Board by the Presbyteries. We think you will find that in every case the questions laid down in the blank forms have been fully and satisfactorily answered. If, however, any thing appears in these papers that ought to be remedied, the Board will gladly conform to whatever directions you may give. Names of persons appear in this list who could not have anticipated such a thing when the year began, a fact which suggests that every minister should rally to the support of this enterprise and put it upon a basis commensurate with its deserts and with every reasonable demand that may be made on its treasury. We know not what may befall our brethren, or what may come to any one of us.

5. Two objections that are oftenest made against rendering aid to others are fully met by the facts manifest in the workings of this enterprise. Frequently persons seek to excuse themselves from giving because they fear the aid may not be properly appropriated. That cannot be said in this case, for surely the worthiness of those receiving aid through this Board will not be questioned. Others would hold that too great a per cent. of the amount contributed is consumed in "expenses." This is usually the resort of the selfish, who do not want to give, but certainly this objection cannot be made against the administration of this beneficence. During the past year the Board's expenses have been $41.94, or less than 1¼ per cent. During the four years of its existence the rate of expense has been but 2¼ per cent.

6. Contributions have been received during the year from two hundred and fifty congregations, from nine Sabbath-schools, and from sixty individuals. These represent seventy-three out of one hundred and seventeen Presbyteries. This shows a marked increase over former years. The most gratifying exhibit, however, is in the aggregate amount contributed, which is more than the total receipts of the three former years. The list of individual contributions is much larger than ever before.

A contribution from every congregation in the Church should be the end striven for in behalf of this cause. With nothing short of this should its friends be satisfied.

We ask you to continue to designate the month of December as the time for contributions to this cause. The Sabbath nearest Christmas is also suggested as an appropriate day.

7. The bequest of the late Mrs. Fathia Shaw, of Danville, Ill., has yielded the Board $2,100, which amount has been safely invested, the interest to be used, as are the regular contributions, from year to year. A final settlement will soon be made with the executor, Mr. E. H. Palmer, whose dealings with us in this matter have been marked with the utmost fairness and Christian courtesy. Four hundred dollars more will be received from this source. We hope the cause will be remembered in like manner by others.

8. We append herewith the Report of the Secretary and Treasurer, showing contributions by congregations and Presbyteries, Sabbath-schools and individuals; also the disbursements during the year.

Respectfully submitted.

GENERAL STATEMENTS.

The purpose for which this Corporation is formed is to receive, hold, convey, and disburse such real and personal property as may be given by will or otherwise to it, or acquired by it in any legitimate way, for the relief and support of disabled ministers and missionaries, and of the needy widows and orphans of deceased ministers and missionaries, or of such other persons as may be dependent upon said ministers and missionaries.

Appropriations from the funds of the Corporation shall be made alone, first, to such ministers as are members in good standing of some Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, they having fully consecrated themselves, since entering said ministry, to the active duties thereof in said Church, and who are not able to support themselves by any suitable vocation of life, and to such missionaries as have been appointed to work in Home or Foreign fields by the recognized authorities of said Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and who have faithfully discharged the duties assigned them during the time of their appointment, and who are not able to support themselves by any suitable vocation in life; and, second, that so far as may be consistent with the wants of disabled ministers and missionaries, the Board may also furnish aid to the widows and orphans of ministers and missionaries aforesaid, and to such other person or persons as may be, or may have been, dependent upon said ministers and missionaries.

RULES FOR DISBURSING FUNDS.

1. All appropriations for ministers must be made on the recommendation of the Presbytery to which the applicant belongs, or of a standing committee of that Presbytery. Appropriations for missionaries who are not ministers, or for those who are, or have been, dependent upon such missionaries, shall be made on the recommendation of the Board by which such missionaries were, or may be, employed.

2. Appropriations are made for one year or less, except when otherwise ordered; and if aid is continued, the recommendations must be renewed from year to year.

REV. AND DEAR SIR:—I beg to inclose to you, by direction of the Executive Committee of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches, a copy of the Minutes of its last meeting, and also to lay before you the inclosed resolution which will be brought before your General Assembly.

Yours very truly, G. D. MATHEWS, Sec'y.

"At a regular meeting of the American Section of the Executive Committee of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches, held in Philadelphia, March 24, 1885, the Treasurer was directed to inform the Chairman of each Church Committee of the amount expected from it for the ad interim expenses of 1885–6, in order that the matter might be brought before the highest court of each Church, and, if possible, the payment be provided for out of its general treasury."

Quebec, Canada, May 8, 1885.

REPORT OF DELEGATES TO THE PAN-PRESBYTERIAN COUNCIL.

FATHERS AND BRETHREN:—Your delegates to the Council of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian System throughout the world, beg leave to submit the following report:

We proceeded to the city of Belfast, Ireland, where the Council convened, June 24, 1884. Immediately upon our arrival we presented our credentials to the Council's Committee on the Reception of Churches, but owing to the absence of the chairman of the committee, Dr. MacVicar, of Canada, no immediate action was taken by the committee upon the application of our Church for membership in the Alliance. On account of the great interest previously excited, both in Europe and America, by the discussion of the proposition to admit the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to a place in the Alliance, the Council appointed an unusually large committee to consider the application of our Church, which had been previously made by our General Assembly, through its Stated Clerk. The enlarged committee consisted of seventeen of the most distinguished ministers and laymen of the Council. After a protracted and earnest investigation of all the problems involved in the admission of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to membership in the great Alliance, the committee unanimously recommended that our Church be admitted, without expressing any opinion for or against our Confession of Faith.

On a motion to adopt the committee's report, Dr. Chambers, of New York, moved to amend by substituting, instead of not expressing an opinion for or against our Confession of Faith, "without approving the Church's revision of the Westminster Confession of Faith."

Dr. Chambers's amendment was carried by a vote of 112 to 78. Those voting against Dr. Chambers's amendment were in favor of admitting our Church unconditionally. Those voting for the amendment desired the admission of the Church "without approving our revision of the Westminster Confession of Faith."

After due deliberation and consultation, we decided to accept seats in the Council and report our action to you.

The action of the Council in this matter gave great satisfaction to its members. We believe that the final settlement of this question, involving the good name and ecclesiastical standing of our Church, will redound to the interest and prosperity of our beloved Zion.

We take special pleasure in bearing testimony to the cordial and hearty reception our delegates received, both from members of the Council and the citizens of Belfast. We were accorded all the rights, dignities, and honors extended to other members of the Council. We recommend that you continue to fraternize with this great and powerful organization, intended to promote the welfare of our common Presbyterianism.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—AMERICAN BRANCH.

The Executive Commission, American Branch, met in Philadelphia, March 24, 1885. There were present the Rev. Drs. T. W. Chambers, Chairman; A. A. Hodge, Wm. P. Breed, C. A. Briggs, C. S. Pomeroy, Benjamin Bausman, S. M. Hamilton; and George Junkin, Alex. Kerr, and F. Walcott Jackson, Esqs.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. Dr. Pomeroy.

In the absence of the Rev. Dr. Mathews, the Rev. Dr. Hamilton was chosen Secretary pro tem.

Letters of apology for absence were received from the Revs. Dr. Mathews, Dr. Roberts, of Utica; Principal MacVicar, of Montreal; James Croil, Esq., of Montreal; and Dr. Burns, of Halifax.

The minutes of the last meeting of the Executive Commission, American Branch, were read. The minutes of the European Section were also read.

George Junkin, Esq., presented the Treasurer's Report. One thousand five hundred and twenty-three dollars had been received up to date. The following Churches have paid in full: General Synod of the Reformed Church in North America, Reformed Church in the United States, Reformed Church in America, the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist Church.

Satisfactory assurances were received that the rest of the money to be raised by the American Branch would be paid within the required time.

The following resolutions were unanimously agreed to:

Resolved, That the supreme ecclesiastical judicatories of the various American Churches represented in the Alliance of the Reformed Churches be memorialized to appropriate from their contingent funds the amounts needed for the annual current expenses of the Alliance, as determined and asked for by the Executive Commission, viz., for 1885–6, $3,000.

Resolved, That the Treasurer of this Section be directed to notify the chairmen of the sub-committees as to the respective amounts to be raised, and that our Secretary be instructed to furnish a copy of our minutes and of this memorial to the clerks of the various ecclesiastical bodies.

On motion, duly seconded, it was resolved that the Rev. W. J. Darby, D.D., of Evansville, Ind., be added from the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to the Executive Commission.

Dr. Breed reported that some progress had been made toward raising the $10,000 for the Church in Bohemia.

The Treasurer was authorized to pay the contingent expenses of the Commission.

It was further agreed that the Treasurer inform the Chairman of the Committee of Co-operation on Foreign Missions that he would pay the traveling expenses of the committee, whenever necessary, to an amount not exceeding one hundred dollars.

The Commission resolved to hold its next meeting on the 16th of June, in the lecture-room of the Scotch Church, New York, at 12 M., unless there should appear to the Chairman and Treasurer good reasons for appointing another date.

The meeting was closed with prayer by the Rev. Dr. Bausman.

EVANGELICAL UNION.

To the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Bentonville, Ark.:

DEAR BRETHREN:—It is a source of gratification to the Evangelical Unionists, especially to those of them who had the pleasure of meeting and exchanging thoughts with the members of the large and influential deputation from the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to the Pan-Presbyterian Council held last summer in Belfast, Ireland, to know that one and all have got safely back to their respective places of abode and spheres of labor. Fain would we persuade ourselves that they have returned home delighted with, and, in more senses than one, enriched by their visit to these old countries, and that they have entered on the discharge of their ministerial and other duties with fresh zeal and renewed vigor of body and mind. Those of us who had the joy of looking in their faces have certainly very pleasant reminiscences of intercourse with them, and our only regret was that circumstances did not favor its extension. Although all too brief, we feel that it has increased our respect for, as well as our confidence and interest in, the whole Cumberland Presbyterian Church; and we hope that what the deputation saw of us, and learned of our affairs, has had no tendency to lower us in their estimation, or diminish their sympathy with the Evangelical Union in its contendings for truth and righteousness.

We were not quite sure what the result would be of the application which we understood the Cumberland Presbyterian Church had made to be received into the Pan-Presbyterian Council. When we took into account, however, the spirit of the age and the changes in the direction of a liberal theology which were taking place amongst us, we were hopeful that it would be favorably entertained; and we take this the earliest opportunity that has presented itself of congratulating the applicants on the issue. In view of it, and of the numerous outspoken and manly utterances which were given by one and another when the case of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church was before the Council, we are heartily glad that you had the grace and wisdom to press your application. The discussion to which it gave rise was creditable, in spirit at least, to most, if not all, who took part in it; and it is our conviction that it will be productive of a vast amount of good on both sides of the Atlantic. It showed that "Westminsterism" is everywhere on the wane, and that before long not a vestige of it will be found, though search should be made for it with a lighted candle. The shell of Calvinism no doubt still clings to many in the Presbyterian fold, but its banishment we regard as one of the events of the future; and the sooner it disappears—at variance, as it demonstrably is, with reason and Scripture—the better. The result of your application was the more grateful to us that your port and bearing before the Council were worthy of all praise. You were naturally anxious to be received, but we were pleased to note that you were resolved not to purchase admission at too dear a price, or secure it by resorting to aught that was mean, or cowardly, or tortuous; and it is well for the world to know that a man may be a Christian and a sound Presbyterian, and yet prefer the system of Arminianism to that of Calvinism.

The knowledge that the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, which we seem to know and love better than we ever did before, continues, despite difficulties and discouragements, to make gratifying progress in various departments of Christian effort, affords Evangelical Unionists much satisfaction; and it is our hearts' desire and prayer that its future triumphs over ignorance, error, vice, and sin may shame its past victories.

We are, dear brethren, yours in the bonds of the gospel,

FERGUS FERGUSON, D.D.,
R. MACAULAY,
GEORGE CRON,

METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH.

Hon. John Frizzell, Moderator:

DEAR SIR:—At the late General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, held in Baltimore, Md., a Board of five Commissioners was appointed and duly authorized to confer with a like Board to be appointed by the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, in view of formulating a basis for the organic union of the two bodies; provided that, after a full and free interchange of sentiment, such union should be found desirable and practicable. Unfortunately, however, your General Assembly had adjourned before it could be notified of the action of our General Conference. This we very much regret, as nothing can now be done, I presume, until your General Assembly will again meet—at least, nothing can be done officially. My object in now addressing you as Moderator of the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church is to thus officially notify you of the action of our General Conference, and request you to submit the same to your General Assembly at its next session, that it may take such action in the premises as may be deemed desirable. We cherish the hope that your General Assembly may be pleased to name a Board of Commissioners similar to the one appointed by our General Conference. And if no organic union may result from the mutual action of the two general bodies, we shall, at least, learn to know each other better and to love each other more. So far as I now understand the circumstances of the case, I think that through mutual concessions and brotherly yieldings a basis of union may be formed that will prove acceptable to both parties; and if, in the ordering of Divine Providence, such shall be the result, no one will more heartily rejoice than myself.

With feelings of Christian fraternity, I remain yours truly,

G. B. MCELROY,
Chairman Board of Commissioners M. P. Church.

Adrian College, Department of Theology, Adrian, Mich., June 6, 1884.

To this communication the following reply was made by the Moderator:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—I have your favor of the 6th inst., and, with you, regret that our General Assembly could not before its adjournment have been informed of the action of your General Conference.

I am not prepared to express an opinion as to whether our doctrinal bases may be reconciled. I apprehend that but little difficulty would be found in harmonizing our views on Church government. However these things may be, a correspondence should, and doubtless would, result as you say, in our learning to know each other better and to love each other more.

I will with pleasure bring this matter to the attention of our General Assembly at its next meeting, to be held at Bentonville, Ark., third Thursday in May next. Meantime, accept assurances of fraternal regard and Christian fellowship. Yours very truly, JOHN FRIZZELL.

Nashville, Tenn., June 14, 1884.

From the "Journal of Proceedings of the General Convention of the Methodist Protestant Church," Baltimore, May, 1884, pp. 24–26, the following extract is presented, giving the action had by that body on this subject:

COMMITTEE ON FRATERNAL RELATIONS REPORT.

The Report of the Committee on Fraternal Relations was read, and adopted as follows:

Part First.—Your committee have had under consideration a letter addressed to this General Conference by E. K. Squier, D.D., who was appointed by the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church at its session of 1882 as a Corresponding Delegate to your body now in session. The letter expresses very warmly the fraternal feelings of the writer, and contains assurances of the cordial sentiments of the Assembly and of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church toward the Methodist Protestant Church.

It should be borne in mind as an historical fact that the General Conference of 1880, at Pittsburgh, was favored with a fraternal visit from the Rev. Mr. Black, of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, who made an able and interesting address, in which he expressed a very ardent desire for a corporate union between that denomination and ours. The Corresponding Delegate, whose letter is before us, refers to the fact that at their Assembly in 1882, a letter was received from a delegate representing the Methodist Protestant Church, in which was contained a suggestion touching the matter of organic Church union. The Assembly received the suggestion favorably, and now answer it through their correspondent, who represents that if our feelings are still in favor of organic union, the Cumberland Presbyterian Church will agree to meet us by committee in the discussion of the subject.

The General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church is in session at this time at McKeesport, Pa.

We quote you from the letter of Dr. Squier as follows:

"If in your wisdom it may seem to your good and the glory of God to appoint such Committee of Conference on this subject, and you should do so, informing the Cumberland Presbyterian Assembly, at McKeesport, of your action, I have no doubt that the Assembly would at once appoint a similar committee to meet and confer with yours. Should this action be thought advisable, and be taken by both bodies at an early day in their sessions, the two committees might meet at Cumberland, Md., and consider the matter in question, and report, in part at least, before either party shall adjourn."

Your committee feel that while fraternity toward other denominations is a self-evident duty, growing out of the intimate relations which must subsist between the disciples of our common Lord, yet there is no undertaking fraught with greater difficulty in a general way than that of attempting to effect organic union between any two of the existing religious denominations; for even where it is found practicable to harmonize all doctrinal and governmental differences in any given case, the matter of name itself, small as that may appear to be, stands in the way and proves generally an insuperable barrier to union. So true is it that names are often more potent with men than principles. But notwithstanding our sense of the difficulties attending any attempt to bring about organic union as between our own and any other religious denomination, we will not disguise the fact that in our opinion, were such a thing practicable, a union with the Cumberland Presbyterians would be a most desirable consummation. And since there have been mutual expressions of desire in these two denominations for union, and the question, so far as it may be involved in the letter of the Corresponding Delegate, has been referred to us for consideration, we venture to advise the following, viz.:

1. That the Convention appoint five Commissioners, who shall confer with a like Commission of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church on the subject of organic union, and report to the next General Conference.

2. That we express our gratification at hearing of the prosperity of the Cumberland Presbyterians, as reported to us in the letter under consideration, and pray the continued and increased blessing of the Lord upon them and their work.

Respectfully submitted.

J. L. MICHAUX,
S. A. BAKER,
A. L. MCKEEVER.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES.

The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, in session at Houston, Texas, to the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, in session at Bentonville, Ark.—Greeting:

It has seemed best to our Assembly to conduct its correspondence with other religious bodies wholly by letter, and not by delegates, as formerly. And we desire now to renew our assurance of warm fraternal regard for your venerable Assembly and for your people. We rejoice in every token of Divine favor shown you in the prosecution of the work of our common Lord.

We desire earnestly to labor together in love with your Church, and every branch of the Church of Christ, in contending for the truth that is in Jesus and for the furtherance of the gospel of salvation.

We are grateful to be able to report to you that the Lord has blessed us during the past year, and that the work which he has in his providence intrusted to our hands has made such progress as to be to us a cause for devout thanksgiving. We do not deem it needful to lay before you particular information as to the special interests of our Church. Our Stated Clerk will forward to your Stated Clerk a copy of the Minutes of this meeting of our Assembly.

Renewing our salutations, we offer for you the prayer (Heb. xiii. 20, 21), "Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well-pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory forever and ever."

V.—EDUCATION.

[The Board of Education made a report to the General Assembly, which was referred to one of the Standing Committees. The paper, however, did not come into my hands; and although every possible effort has been made to procure it, yet I have not been able to find it. This is to be regretted, for it should have been published in the Minutes. The report gave a very encouraging outlook, showing that there is a deeper interest throughout the Church than ever before on the subject of educating the rising ministry—each of our colleges and universities having a larger number of young men who are making thorough preparation for their great work than during any previous year of the Church's history.—T. C. B., S. C.]

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY.

To the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, in session at Bentonville, Ark.:

The Trustees of Cumberland University submit the following report for the year ending June, 1885:

The past year has been one of marked prosperity, notwithstanding the great financial depression throughout the country. The increase of students above the attendance of last year was about ten per cent., while the increase of last year over that of the previous year was twenty per cent., thus showing in the period of two years an increase of about thirty per cent. of students.

In the last Annual Report from this Board three causes were assigned for the continued prosperity of the University, which may now be repeated with increased emphasis. They were—

1. The Cumberland Presbyterian Church is growing in its power and in its work, and is bringing a rapidly-increasing number of young men within its influence; and as the Church grows, so will Cumberland University.

2. The alumni are sending their sons to the University to be educated, and this influence is being extended to their neighbors' sons, and thus the University is beginning to reap the fruits of labor performed more than a quarter of a century ago.

3. The work of the University is being well and thoroughly done in the class-room. The efficiency and unselfish devotion of the Faculty are a continuing source of congratulation. The energy of such men cannot fail to bear fruit, and it is in a large measure by reason of their faithful labors that the Board is able to report the prosperity of the past, and to see so much encouragement for the future.

Perhaps the most significant fact of the year is the large increase in the attendance of candidates for the ministry. Seventy-two young men are here, attending one or more of the schools of the University, who are preparing for the work of the ministry in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church; and it is gratifying to be able to say, without intending to underrate other classes, that the young ministers now here, in point of intelligence and personal culture, give unusual promise of usefulness to the Church.

Since the last Annual Report from this Board the sum of two thousand six hundred and sixty-six dollars has been added to the cash endowment of the Theological Department. This sum has been contributed without special solicitation, and by a large number of persons throughout the Church, and has been received by the Treasurer in sums ranging from three dollars to one thousand dollars. No part of the sum contributed on what is known as the "Manlove Proposition" is included in this amount. Two thousand six hundred and sixty-six dollars is not a large sum for the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to give in one year for the endowment of its Theological School. It could give each year ten times that amount and not suffer thereby. But there is something more encouraging in the fact than in the amount of money received. It is the offering of many hearts, and is a sure indication that the Seminary is finding its place in the heart of the whole Church; and when it has fully done this, it will no longer be in want of the things needful for the accomplishment of its great mission.

The death of A. J. Baird, D.D., who for many years gave, free of charge to the University, his services as Lecturer on Pastoral Work, made it necessary for the vacancy thus arising to be filled. The Board having no funds at their command which could be appropriated to this end, it was necessary to find some one both competent and willing to render to the Church and the University a like gratuitous service. The Board is glad to be able to report that the Faculty have been able to fill the vacancy by securing the gratuitous services of W. J. Darby, D.D., of Evansville, Ind., and the Rev. J. M. Hubbert, of Lincoln, Ill.

While it is humiliating to the Board to confess its inability to pay for such services, it is yet a matter of congratulation to the whole Church that efficient and consecrated men can be found who are willing to perform the labor without price.

For several years past C. H. Bell, D.D., has also been performing for the University a gratuitous service as Lecturer on Missions. He has agreed to make his annual visits to Lebanon during the extreme weather of the winter months of longer duration, and to extend his lectures so as to include the subjects of the Preparation and Delivery of Sermons, and the Board have accordingly elected him Professor of Homiletics and Missions. The services of Dr. Bell, though unrewarded by salary, are invaluable to the student of theology, and cover a field of instruction to which the older members of the Faculty could not give that time which its importance demanded.

The Church is to be congratulated upon these several changes, which have secured so large an increase to the working force of the Theological Department, and they are respectfully submitted to the General Assembly for its approval.

No changes in the Board of Trustees have occurred to be reported.

Respectfully submitted. AND'W B. MARTIN,

President Board of Trustees of Cumberland University.

VI.—BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

To the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, which is to meet in the town of Bentonville, Ark., May 21, 1885:

The Trustees of the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church hereby submit to your reverend body their Annual Report.

1. The Doherty fund is securely invested in bonds, as stated in our last report, and as the interest on said fund falls due it is collected and paid to the Trustees of Cumberland University, as directed in the deed of gift from the donor, and accepted by the General Assembly.

2. Since our last report to your body the balance of the Wooldridge bequest has been collected, amounting to $12.44, which is now in the hands of our Treasurer.

3. In February last the President of your Board, J. M. Gill, received a donation of $1,000 from the hand of Luther Rawlins, of Christian County, Ky., which is the liberal gift of his wife, Mrs. Margaret R. C. Rawlins, deceased, and which has been paid to the Treasurer of the Trustees of Cumberland University, as directed by the said Luther Rawlins, to be applied to the "Beard Endowment."

4. There is a residuary bequest made to your Board by the last will of the late Mrs. Clara Donnell, deceased, of Athens, Ala., about which there is some litigation, and we have employed counsel to look after your interest under said will.

5. We ask the General Assembly to authorize the Treasurer of her Board to pay any and all traveling expenses incurred by members of said Board, and which are necessary in the transaction of the legitimate business of the Board.

* From former reports.

The reports from the Stated Clerks show that 104 ministers bore letters of dismissal and recommendation at the time said reports were forwarded. Only a small number of these had had time to join other Presbyteries when the reports were made out. Still only one half of the number has been added to the list of ordained ministers. Several were stricken from the roll who did not bear letters of dismissal. This was caused, no doubt, from inaccuracies of Stated Clerks of Presbyteries. There are, it is confidently believed, about 1,600 ordained ministers. The entire tabular exhibit for the year, as will be seen by comparison with previous years, gives most gratifying results. During the year 11,067 were added on examination. The sum total of membership, too, is the largest by several thousand that has ever been reported. To ascertain the amounts contributed to Missions, Publication, and Ministerial Relief, see the reports of those Boards respectively.

The foregoing, therefore, shows the financial standing of each Presbytery on May 1, 1885. But all Presbyteries which have paid their dues since that time will, of course, receive the Minutes for this year.
